FOR MANY GOVERNORS

House Troubles Begin At Home

By HUGH MULLIGAN
Associated Press Writer

After striving for years to get to the top of the political ladder, many governors find what almost any home owner finds at the top of a ladder. Namely that the roof leaks, the gutters are clogged and the shingles are falling off.

Gov. James T. Blair of Missouri, for instance, goes obout wadding newspaper into the window cracks of his drafty mansion, an 88-year-old French - Italian structure that is kept under 24-hour fire guard.

Two years ago Blair refused to move into the mansion on grounds it was impossible to heat, rat-infested and falling down. But Sylvester, the mansion cat, has taken care of the rat problem and a $40,000 repair job enabled the Blairs to camp out in the redone second floor.

When Nevada Gov. Grant Sawyer moved into the state's 50-year-old colonial mansion in January, he found something lacking in the upstairs bedrooms. Beds, for instance. The rest of the house was only partly furnished. The Legislature finally put up $29,000 for furnishings.

Kentucky finally got around to curing its mansion of a dangerous case of hot wires after one governor complained of using "fuses by the bushel."

Georgio has killed off several moves to replace its 50-year-old native stone mansion, considered obsolete and badly in need of repairs. "We got it patched up and the rains haven't bothered us recently," said Secretary of State Ben Fortson, whose office is charged with mansion maintenance.

Gov. Price Daniel of Texas was welcoming a delegation of women to his 105-year-old mansion when a large chunk of the entrance hall ceining suddenly gave way.

The roof also fell in on Wyoming's 50-year-old mansion, narrowly missing the cook. An $18,000 repair bill patched things up a bit.

The California mansion, another batch of gingerbread from the Victorian oven, stands on the fringes of downtown Sacramento with a busy U. S. highway running past its iron picket fence. It is flanked by a motel, gas station and physical culture salon. But the ornately paneled, velvet draped rooms have a certain fading charm, especially the fine old Italian marble fireplaces, each different and each condemned by the fire marshal.

At least 10 states, including some large ones like Michigan and Massachusetts, provide no mansions for their governors. In Vermont, Gov. Robert Stafford lives in a hotel near the State House. Massachusetts gives its governors a $10,000 a year living allowance. Oregon rents them a state-owned house, but the present governor, Mark Hatfield, has bought a 75-year-old private house and is remodeling it for himself.

Kansas has two governors mansions. Gov. George Docking lives in the 72-year-old official residence and wants no part of "Cedar Crest," a brooding French castle on a high bluff outside Topeko willed to the state two years ago. Docking says the new one is so far out of town, "I have a hard time finding it."

Pennsylvania has two mansions and is thinking of building a third.

Gov. David Lawrence lives in the drafty official manse, an architectural hodge-podge on the banks of the Susquehanna that was converted from a private home in 1864 and since has been enlarged by such helter-skelter additions that it is now actually two houses hiding behind a false front. Many previous governors fled permanently to the comfortable summer mansion at nearby Indiantown Gap. For nearly 15 years the state has been planning to erect a modern mansion, patterned after Independence Hall. The 2½ million dollar price tag has been the main drawback.

"Morven," the New Jersey mansion at Princeton, is both the oldest and one of the newest. It was built in 1701, acquired by the state 250 years later. Following a $250,000-restoration job and enlargement of the Gen. Cornwallis bed, Gov. Robert Meyner moved in two years ago as the first official occupant.

Nebraska's new $250,000-mansion has developed a case of shaky floors. North Dakota has had trouble finding an architect who will keep within the available $193,000 and not go wild on modern design. Montana scraped up $125,000 to build a mansion in 1953, added $50,000 more two years later and still ran out of money. The current Legislature put up $124,000 to finish the place.

Wisconsin acuired a new mansion 10 years ago, a 34-room Italian Renaissance structure that was built in 1929 and undoubetdly holds the gubernatorial bathroom record. It has 12.

Whether acquired or built, the newer mansions average about a quarter million dollars in cost and contain 12 to 15 rooms.

In 1900, when the population of the U. S. was 76.1 million, there were nearly 31 million children under the age of 18 and a newborn baby had a life expectancy of 49 years. Today, there are more than 61 million children in the country under the age of 18 out of a population of 175 million and the life expectancy is 70 years.

U.S. Protests Reds Barbs At Greek Isles

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The United States Friday protested "threats" levelled against Greece and Italy by Soviet Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev in an attempt to block construction of U.S. missile bases on their territory.

The State Department expressed its "unswerving support" for the two nations and said the United States regards any threat against them as a matter of mutual concern.

It also voiced regret that Khrushchev's threats came during the Geneva Big Four foreign ministers negotiations. It said they "scarcely improve the chances of successful negotiations at any level."

The Soviet premier has made several speeches during his current visit to Albania in which he has referred to the plans for missile bases in the two countries. The specific one that prompted the sharp State Department reaction was delivered Thursday in the town of Korce.

In the speech, Khrushchev warned the Greeks that their decision "entails serious consequences." He said that if the missile bases are built, the Soviets may establish similar bases in the mountain area of neighboring Albania.

He also noted that both Italy and Greece could be "showered" with rockets from such Soviet bases.

FORCE MOVES INLAND

Louisiana-Texas Coasts All Set For First Storm

NEW ORLEANS (AP) Tropical storm Arlene, the season's first, Friday night headed slowly through the Gulf of Mexico toward the sparsely settled western Louisiana coast with winds ranging up to 50 miles an hour.

The weather bureau, in its 10 p.m. advisory, located the storm center about 150 miles south of Lafayette in south-central Louisiana.

The storm had remained nearly stationary for the previous six hours, the bureau said adding there were indications it would soon start to move slowly toward the northwest at about four to eight miles per hour and then veer to the north at a little faster rate after 12 hours, but with little change in size or intensity.

STORM CENTER

The center was expected to move inland on the western Louisiana coast sometime Saturday with the heaviest squalls lashing the central coastal area.

Earlier Friday night, there were indications that the storm center would pass inland further westward on the Gulf Coast near the Texas-Louisiana border.

The 7 p.m. warning said:

"Tropical storm Arlene continues moving toward the northwest and at 7 p.m. (CST), was centered about 150 statute miles southeast of Port Arthur, Tex.

"The storm is expected to reach the coast near the Texas-Louisiana border a little after midnight tonight.

"Highest winds are estimated at 50 miles per hour within 50 miles of the center and in some of heavier squalls to north of center.

GALE WARNINGS

"Gale warnings are displayed from Galveston, Tex., to Grand Isle., La., for winds 35-50 m.p.h. with rough seas and tides reaching 2-4 feet above normal tonight. Small craft from Galveston to Pensacola, Fla., should remain in port."

The storm, born in the Gulf of Mexico Thusday night, originally aimed its punch at the Louisiana coastline below New Orleans, but it later veered to the west.

Hurricane Audrey, lashed the Cameron-Lake Charles area two years ago, taking more than 500 lives and causing millions of dollars damage.

Research projects also give promise of more reliable forecasts of unusually warm or cold weather a month or more in advance.

Both problems are of vital concern to the oil industry. Tropical storms make operations off the Louisiana coast particularly hazardous. Unexpected cold waves can upset distribution and cause spot shortages of heating oils.

Research projects supervised by a special weather advisory committee were established four years ago by the American Petroleum Institute (AP).

Students Ready For Final Data On Grades Today

The hundreds of school students in the Monroe and Ouachita Parish area today are scheduled to pick up their report cards and bid their respective schools an unquestionably fond farewell.

Classrooms are to open at 8:30 this morning, the first time area students were required to report on Saturday. "This action is necessary because we took two days out for Easter vacation instead of the usual one," commented W.W. Ward, superintendent of parish schools. "Since we must operate the school system for 180 days each year, that extra holiday had to be made up."

Both city and parish schools are to follow the same schedule.

For many of the students and their parents, today marks the end of the school term, but also the beginning of a holiday or vacation trip, for thousands of families are expected to take to the open roads this Memorial Day weekend.

Likewise, the National Safety Council has said that around 260 of these holiday travelers are expected to die in traffic accidents and 10,000 are to sustain crippling injuries during the Memorial Day weekend, which officially began

Navy Says Sub In Gulf Checked

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Navy said Friday it had investigated a report of the sighting of an unidentified submarine in the Gulf of Mexico.

However, following custom, the Navy did not say what, if anyting, had been found in the investigation.

Tax Fighter Leaves Pen For Pulpit

Pastor McCrackin Heads Homeward To Preach Sunday

CINCINNATI (UPI) — The Rev. Maurice McCrackin, pacifist pastor who objects to paying income taxes, was released Friday from the federal prison at Allenwood, Pa. after serving seven months.

McCrackin has refused for more than 10 years to pay his federal income taxes because he claims all or part would be used for armaments.

SERMON TEXT

He was sentenced to six months imprisonment for failure to answer a federal summons. Allenwood Warden C. R. Higgins said McCrackin had served 30 days extra for refusing to pay his fine of $250 and he could see no reason for holding him any longer.

The minister announced he would be back in his pulpit in West Cincinnati-St. Barnabas Church Sunday to preach a sermon from the 37th psalm.

The psalm begins: "Fret not

Holiday

Postoffices in the Twin Cities will today observe May 30 as "Memorial Day", and in both Monroe and West Monroe will be closed all day and there are to be no mail deliveries. However special delivery letters will be handled and mail boxes in the postoffices will be utilized to receive incoming mails.

The American Legion Auxiliary yesterday through its members and young women from schools sold handsome miniature poppies that soldiers in hospitals who were able to perform light duties fashioned these flowers.

Veteran old soldier Charles M. Mitchell, with other loyal veterans, will today visit the six cemeteries in Monroe and elsewhere on the east side of the river where soldier dead are buried. Flags and flowers will be placed on these graves.

BUT ARKANSAS IS WAITING

Top State Convict Is Given Freedom

BATON ROUGE (AP)—Charlie Frazier, badman of the 1930's who joined in a murderous prison break 26 years ago, lies ill in a hospital with a Louisiana penitentiary release waiting.

Arkansas authorities want the 68-year-old Angola convict, and when Frazier is released, they will get him.

Warden Victor Walker said Frazier, who received Gov. Earl Long's commutation of his life sentence to time served just last week, is in New Orleans Charity Hospital.

Long's clemency papers were received Friday at Angola by the warden.

"I don't see how we can release him until he is able to travel," the warden said. "I don't think he will be able to travel for some time."

Walker said he didn't know what Arkansas planned to do with the aged convict, the mostly widely known prisoner at Angola.

Arkansas wants Frazier for escape. He fled Jan. 8, 1933, after receiving an Arkansas commutation of a life term to 21 years.

It was in September, 1933, while Louisiana prisoners watched an Angola baseball game, that 12 of Angola's toughest inmates including Frazier shot their way to freedom, killing three men.

Originally Frazier was sent to Angola for 18 to 28 years after a Bossier Parish bank robbery. Life was added for shooting to kill.

Roads Filled With Holiday Rest Seekers

Safety Council Predicts 260 Persons To Die

By The Associated Press

The start of the Memorial Day weekend Friday night opened the season of heavy travel.

The National Safety Council estimated 40 million automobiles will roll along streets and highways during the brief holiday period.

The Council also estimated that traffic accidents may cause 260 deaths and 10,000 disabling injuries between 6 p.m. (local time) Friday and midnight Sunday.

Memorial Day traditionally marks the start of the vacation travel season.

Both good and bad weather was forecast.

The Weather Bureau said sunny weather will favor the western half of the country and the area between the Appalachians and the Atlantic Coast.

But scattered rain was in prospect from the lower Mississippi Valley northward through the Central Plains and middle Mississippi Valley to the Great Lakes region.

Bad weather usually has a limiting effect on travel and thus holds down the number of fatal accidents.

NSC said reports from states in all parts of the country indicate "the U.S. probably is going to get the most active traffic enforcement over the holiday weekend it has ever had."

Police plans included round-the-clock patrol work and concentrating manpower in known danger zones of the road networks.

The Associated Press made a nationwide survey of motor vehicle fatalities during a recent weekend — from 6 p.m. Friday, May 15, to midnight Sunday, May 17. During that period deaths totaled 262.

The survey provided figures for comparing performance by motorists on a holiday and nonholiday weekends of the same length, two days or, counting Friday evening, 54 hours.

The only other 2-day Memorial

Prayer, Play Will Provide Holiday Scenes

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The nation journeys Saturday to gaveside and seaside, to chapel and mountain lake in the annual combination of prayer and play which make up Memorial Day.

Ceremonies to remember America's war dead will be held at military outposts in many lands, in national cemeteries and shrines and at thousands of small crossroads hamlets.

Memorial Day also signals the start of summer beach and resort business, and millions began to leave the crowded cities Friday for an early start on the holiday weekend.

The dead of five wars, dating back to the Revolution, will be honored by veterans and patriotic roups and by relatives whose fathers and sons—and daughters—lie under the grass sod.

At Rindge, N.H., Daughters of the Confederacy and Daughters of the Union Veterans will join in laying wreaths on the stone open-

Governor Put To Bed; Suffering Exhaustion

Gromyko Set Firm Against West Troops

Ground And Air Talks Secret; Reds Hold Off

GENEVA (AP)—Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko refused in secret talks in the air and on the ground Friday to withdraw the Soviet Union's demands for evacuation of Western troops from Berlin.

An American informant said later that Secretary of State Christian A. Herter has convinced Gromyko that the Allies are not bluffing in their resolve to stand firm on Berlin.

The exchanges between the Big Four foreign ministers took place in the world's first international conference in the clouds and later in a Geneva town house.

Western delegation officials said these careful probing operations produced "possibly a small degree of progress" but that the difficult basic issues still await solution.

ALL SMILES

The ministers came smiling out of a transatlantic plane which brought them back from the Washington funeral of former Secretary of State John Foster Dulles.

Then they met for 2 hours 5 minutes in a Geneva town house to continue secret discussions on Berlin and related issues.

After that session the ministers authorized a spokesman to say only that they held "informal talks on the questions" before them.

Of all those questions Berlin is the most pressing. Tough as this problem remains, the U.S. delegation now feels the Soviets realize the Allies will not surrender war-won rights in that isolated city.

Asked if the Soviets now knew the West means business, Asst. Secretary of State Andrew H. Berding told newsmen: "I think they realize it. I believe they realize the statements we (Americans) have made have been carefully considered and talked over with our Allies."

He added that the Soviets feel the West is "not bluffing about Berlin."

In the exchanges aloft and later behind closed doors here, Gromyko defended the line the Soviets have taken on Berlin since last November—that the presence of Western soldiers in that isolated city strains international relations. The Soviet Union has proposed demilitarizing the Western sectors

U.S. Pilot Sets Plane Down In Raging Gunfight

ALGIERS (UPI) — U. S. Air Force Capt. Charles Busick of Covington, Ky., crash-landed in the middle of a battle between French troops and Moslem rebels Tuesday night, it was revealed Friday.

Busick, stationed with the 86th Fighter-Interceptor Wing at Ramstein, Germany, was flying from his home field to Wheelus AFB, Libya, when engine trouble forced him down.

He spotted flares going up 30 miles south of the coast near Guelma in eastern Algeria. Taking the flares for a signal to land, Busick brought down his T33 jet trainer across the flat terrain.

The 31-year-old pilot found out too late he had come down in the middle of a raging battle. Bullets whizzed about but he was able to make his way to French lines.

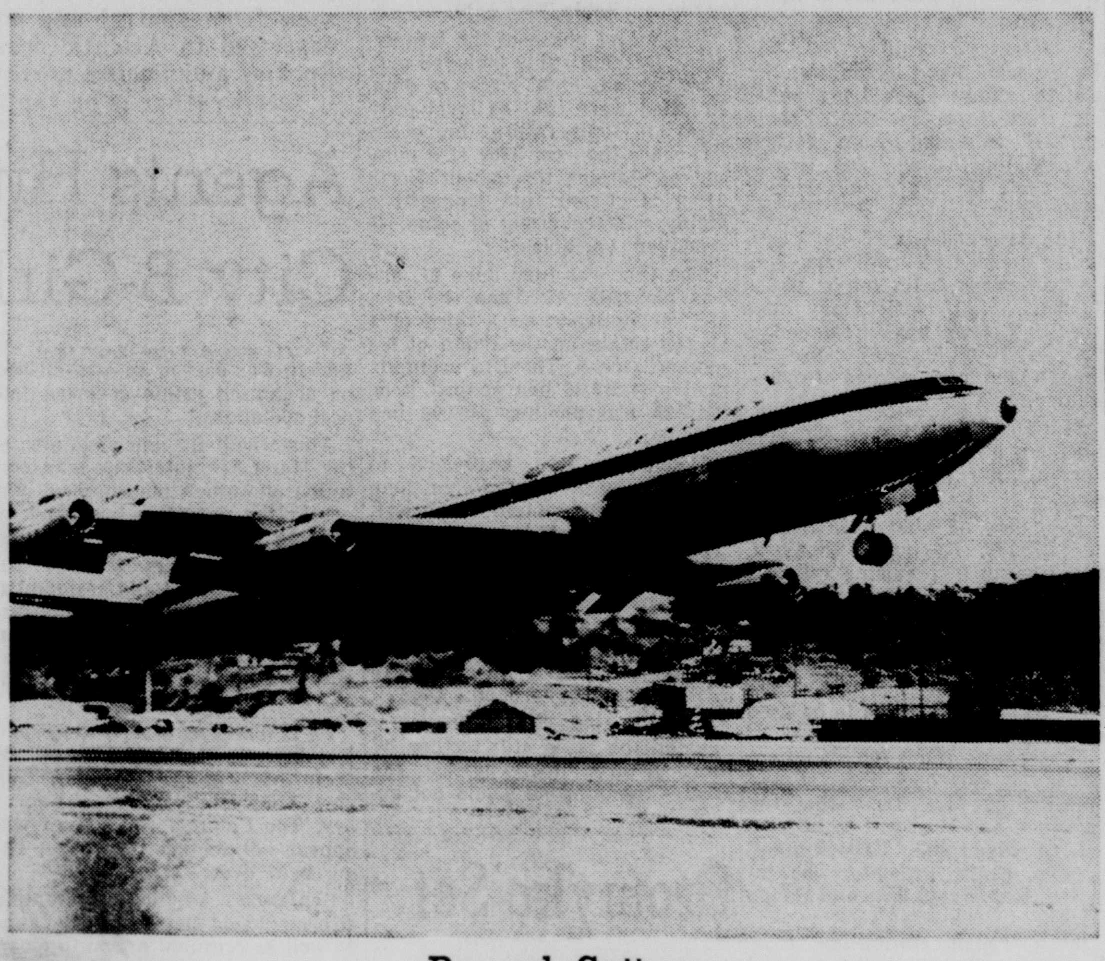
The pilot was sent on to Libya, officials said.

Scattered squalls of occasional heavy rain are expected throughout the area today, with no important temperature changes.

Otherwise, the weatherman says, Northeast Louisiana will see cloudy skies with scattered showers and thundershowers through tonight.

CAA recorded .02 inches of rain yesterday, with a high of 85 and a low of 70.

Yesterday's maximum was 87 and the minimum was 70.



Record Setter

Jet Airliner Makes Record Atlantic Hop

ROME (AP)—A Boeing 707-320 jet airliner landed here Friday smashing a distance record for commercial jet transports claimed by the Soviets.

The huge intercontinental airliner, which can carry 189 passengers, took off from Seattle, Wash., at 6:51 p.m. Thursday, Seattle time (9:51 p.m. EST) and covered 5,830 miles in its nonstop flight to Rome. It landed at 2:57 p.m. local time (8:57 a.m. EST).

The time for the big plane, which is finishing Federal Aviation Agency tests before going into regular service, was 11 hours and 6 minutes at an average speed of 604 miles an hour.

SOVIETS BESTED

The 707 was flown by A. M. (Tex) Johnston, Boeing's veteran chief of flight tests.

Johnston, 44, originally from Emporia, Kan., and now a Seattle resident, was the first pilot to fly a supersonic plane. the X-100, in 1946. He said Friday's flight was "as smooth as it could be."

William M. Allen, Boeing president, who was aboard the giant jet, said he hoped to obtain the FAA's basic certification of the intercontinental 707 within one or two weeks.

The plane will take off Saturday for brief stopovers in Paris. Brussels and Frankfurt. After spending the night in London the plane will leave for Seattle Sunday at about 3 p.m. local time (9 a.m. EST).

Jet Pilot Hops Aboard Boxkite

NEW YORK (UPI) — Peter M. Bowers, who tests lightning-fast jets for Boeing Aircraft Corp., putt-putted from Albany to New York City at less than 40 miles an hour Friday in a replica of the boxkite plane in which Glenn Curtiss made the same trip in 1910.

Curtiss's feat 49 years ago was billed "the most daring aeroplane flight in history." The 140-mile trip set a long-distance record at the time and brought the daredevil aviation pioneer $10,000 in prize money.

Bowers' boxkite plane, built 12 years ago, was almost an exact duplicate of Curtiss's vintage model. It has a 35-mile-an-hour take-off speed, 50 M.P.H. cruising speed, and maximum speed of 60. Curtiss made his historic flight in about four hours, including a refueling stop at Poughkeepsie, N.Y. Bowers made it in four hours and 20 minutes, including a one-hour stop at Poughkeepsie.

VICTIM, SUSPECTS JAILED

Mexican Fortune Holdup Thickens

MEXICO CITY (AP) — The gun-point robbery of a fortune in Cuban pesos from an American woman landed both the victim and a group of her associates in a Mexican jail Friday.

How the robbers fared is still a question.

Police said their inquiry had split swiftly into two phases:

1. Investigation of the report by Mrs. Marilyn Thal of Miami, Fla., of a loss of 3,767,500 Cuban pesos—once worth an equal amount of dollars—to three gunmen she called Cubans. She said they accosted her on a quiet residential street here Thursday night and fled by car with the money. The money is still missing.

2. Pursuit of a suspicion by police authorities that they have stumbled on an international ring dealing in foreign currencies, jewelry, and possibly narcotics. Government agents from other nations of the hemisphere are expected in Saturday.

CRIME RING

Tangled up with this are currency regulations of Prime Minister Fidel Castro's Cuban government. These are intended to ban anyone from capitalizing on the millions of pesos sent abroad by President Fulgencio Batista and his followers before the Castro revolution triumphed Jan.1.

Mrs. Thal, suffering a minor flesh wound from a bullet fired from the gunmen's getaway car was arrested.

Police said her husband, Sidney Thal, was taken into custody at a hotel after the holdup.

Police had identified Mrs. Thal as the wife of Karl Beyeff. Officials later said he was one of the

Funds Allotted For Work On Parish Roads

The Ouachita Parish Police Jury last night voted to allow each ward $3,500 for "blacktopping, sealing or patching of roads" according to that ward's needs. Road work will start by July.

Meeting at 7 p.m. in special session, the jurors also decided to send Hardy Wells, road superintendent, and Robert L. Sullivan, purchasing agent to New Orleans Sunday to attempt recovery of $20,000 worth of material and labor spent on road repair after last year's near-flood conditions.

The decision to allow each ward to do the type highway work necessary, rather than build one new mile of road, followed 20 minutes of discussion on the bad condition of parish roads.

"We're going to lose all our old roads if we don't do something about them real soon," warned F. G. (Red) Studdard, Ward 1 juror. "What's the use of

STATE, FEDERAL CLEANUP

Agents Hit Calumet City B-Girl Shops

CHICAGO (AP)—State and federal authorities joined forces Friday in a drive against everything illegal on Calumet City's notorious street of girlie shows and fun spots.

A few gaudy blocks of the suburb at the Illinois-Indiana line long has catered to Chicago convention visitors on the prowl for offbeat entertainment unavailable back home.

Years of reform campaigns have gotten nowhere.

Many neon signs went dark Thursday night when state's attorney's investigators swept in on the strip. They loaded 54 women and 44 men — owners and employes—into buses and took them to the Criminal Courts building.

The state's attorney let them go, but not far. They were herded into patrol wagons and taken to the U.S. Courthouse and given dates for appearances under subpoena before a federal grand jury.

Robert Tieken, U.S. district attorney, said the government wants their testimony and that the wholesale roundup was part of an intensive drive by his office "to break the back of Calumet City."

The girls, popularly known as B-girls because of their cooing greeting to saloon patrons—"Buy me a drink, honey"—added a dash of color to the sombre interior of the courthouse.

Some wore sun suits, some shorts. Others displayed their charms in tight-fitting toreador trousers and gaily hued blouses. There were many blondes who had been born brunette.

The roundup, Tieken said, embraced most of Calumet City's night life. His investigation, he BATON ROUGE (AP)—Gov. Earl Long, tense with explosive nerves after legislative battling, was put to bed Friday for several days rest under the care of doctors. But he continues as governor.

Mrs. Long announced Gov. Long is suffering from exhaustion. The governor is being allowed no visitors.

In the Capitol, reliable administration sources said Gov. Long, during his rest, will be able to handle any legislative matters requiring his attention as governor, such as signing or vetoing bills.

The 63-year-old chief executive's profanity and shouted insults in a stunned Legislature during the week stirred an outraged reaction.

His wife, his friends, his legislative leaders, newspapers and even his foes begged, suggested and advised he stop and seek rest immediately.

Long, a heart attack victim in 1950, has been going like a man with fire in his veins since he suddenly asserted several weeks before the Legislature met he would seek an unprecedented fourth term in December.

He says he will resign in order to get around a constitutional ban against a governor being his own immediate successor.

FRIENDS TURN

Long's own leaders, his own supporters turned against him during the violent week Long tried to force an unhappy Legislature to accept his proposals to ease voter registration laws.

Long and Sen. W. M. Rainach, Summerfield, state segregation chief, collided head on before legislative committees in roaring debate. Long lost in both Senate and House.

Sen. Russell Long, the governor's nephew and son of the late Huey P. Long, was in town during the day but was unavailable for comment.

Lt. Gov. Lether Frazar is next in line of command, and has been

Three Trapped In Kentucky Mine Collapse

BEAVER DAM, Ky. (UPI) — A cave-in trapped three miners 500 feet back in a drift shaft at a mine 10 miles southeast of here Friday, but they were alive and apparently had a good chance of being rescued.

The men were identified by officials of the Ken Coal Company mine as Don McClaren of Anna, Ill.; Earl Bennett, Taylorsville, Ill.; and Jake Lewis, of Harlan, Ky.

Mine officials said contact had been made with the men by use of a mine radio.

The men said they had plenty of water and air was being pumped into the room where they were trapped. Rescue workers thought they could be reached in from eight to ten hours.

The cave-in Friday morning was believed to have been caused by a fault in the rock structure. The mine was originally a strip mine, but recently was converted to an underground operation.

Heavy machinery to speed the operation was scheduled to start with rescue teams working from both sides and the top of the hill into which the mine shaft is dug. About 50 to 75 rescue workers are taking part in the operation.

Speaker

Miss Caroline Dorman, noted nation wide for her love and attainments in the propogation of flowers, who visited Monroe some months ago, has just served as guest speaker at the North Carolina Garden clubs state convention.

Judson college, her almamater honored her with a handsome large silver punch bowl on which was inscribed the name of the well known alumna. They also presented her with a small replica of this bowl and with her name in large letters.

Miss Dorman's book, "Flowers native to the Deep South", is recognized as an authoritative source of information.

To Open

Eleven Twin Cities gardens will be open to the public all day Sunday and will stress day lilies as features. Announcement is made by Mrs. W. R. Gates, president of the Dixieland Daylily society. The showing will be of informal nature and Monroe gardens to be thrown open from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m., Sunday will be those as follows:

L. L. Price, 3800 Blanks; Mrs. Georgia Williams, 3800 Lee Avenue; and Ernest B. Turner, Swartz road.

In West Monroe the gardens open to visitors will be those of Mrs. W. R. Gates, 404 Linderman; Mrs. June Hill, 304 Anderson; Mrs. Collier Murphrey, 202 Slack; Mrs. R. C. Pittard, Norris Lane; Mrs. J. H. Savage, 406 Clayton; Mrs. Beulah Albright, White's Ferry Rd.; Mrs. Ruth Plyant, Whites Ferry Rd.; Mrs. Mary Willett, White's Ferry Rd.

On Trip

Mrs. H. M. James, since last Tuesday visiting her father in Hobbs, N. M., will proceed in a few days to Tucson, Arizona, where James plans to fly to meet her. Then they will drive to Guaymas, Mexico where he is to go deep sea fishing while Mrs. James visits museums and spends some time painting.

to obtain statistical monthly forecasts which show a reliably narrower margin of error than climatology affords," he said.

The hurricane studies have concentrated in part on wind and pressure patterns at various Gulf of Mexico levels up to 40,000 feet.

Roop said the streamlines of windlow in the area surrounding a recent storm center were found to be nearly identical with those of destructive Hurricane Audrey in 1957.

"However, the storm proved harmless, moving onshore without any destructive winds," he said.

Detailed analysis of many such storms, he said, is expected to provide a reliable means for recognizing dangerous disturbances.

The most obvious gap in hurricane knowledge, Roop said, is recognizing development of relatively weak storms close to shore.

"This is a quite different problem from the prediction of the course for a hurricane already full developed, a problem for which forecasting methods are already available," he said.

The initial phase of the temperature forecast study included over 1,500,000 individual pieces of data. Included were the sea level pressure and temperatures for every day since the year 1900 at a number of stations throughout North America. From this emerged a highly selected group of some 140 predictor variables.

The first was filed June 27, and was for $2,694.46. Then the Rev. McCrackin inherited a third of a $15,000 estate on the death of his mother, Oct. 5. The IRS promptly filed a $1,518.86 lien against it on Oct. 23 and another $469.06 lien Oct. 30.

McCrackin was sentenced to jail here by Federal Judge John H. Druffel for contempt of court. He had refused to answer, or stand up in court.

Everytime, law officers had to bring McCrackin into court. Twice they had to carry him. Afterward, however, they solved the problem by taking along a wheelchair to haul the pastor around.

While in jail, the pastor complicated the issue still further by filing a disclaimer against the estate—meaning he would not accept it.

Long's right hand in top administrative affairs since Long began his third term in 1956. Frazar himself collapsed from fatigue several months ago and took a long rest. He has been taking it easy since then.

The current 30-day fiscal Legislature opens its fourth week Sunday afternoon, with major issues such as a full teachers pay raise unsettled. Long has threatened to veto a 21-million pay raise although he has agreed to 9½-million.

Much of Long's record spending program awaits final action in the Senate, after winning House passage.

Long has an able floor leader, Sen. B. B. Rayburn, Bogalusa, and Frazar is presiding officer.

As late as Thursday night, Long had insisted he was going on a political speech tour starting in Leesville Saturday. He even pointed out to friends one of his five red station wagons to be used as sound trucks.

Frazar has made no comment since the announcement at the mansion by Mrs. Long that the governor has been put to bed.

Long was branded "a sick man" by one of the legislators he insulted, Rep. Frank Fulco of Caddo Parish.

In a rough committee fight Tuesday, a segregationist accused Long of suffering from "constipation of the brain," and Long, pushing off supporters who sought to restrain him, yelled his anger, admitting then he was a sick man.

But the state constitution apparently is not clear what happens now, if Long remains out of affairs.

Article five, section six, says state oifcials next in line, in the order named, are lieutenant governor, Senate president pro tempore and secretary of state, and "in case of inability of the governor to act as such by reasons of his absence from the state or for other cause all the powers and duties of this office shall devolve upon the officers in the order named . . ."

of Berlin and making it a so-called free city.

Herter and Gromyko, with British Foreign Secretary Selwyn Lloyd and French Foreign Minister Maurice Couve de Murville, brought their talks into a new secret and possibly final phase.

This involved a search for a formula to end the Berlin crisis and open the road to a summit meeting. Clearly they faced many more hard bargaining sessions.

Berding described it this way: "It is obvious they are trying to reach an agreement to enable them to go to a summit conference."

To push their work, the ministers decided to meet Saturday both at a semipublic speech-making session in the Palace de Nations and later privately around a dinner table.

The semipublic session will be a daytime affair. In the evening the ministers will dine as guests of Gromyko and continue their secret talks in his tree-shrouded villa.

Rev. McCrackin was met at the prison gate by a group of friends that included the Rev. Ernest Bromley, Sharonville, Pa., and several Philadelphians.

He and Rev. Bromley and his wife headed for Cincinnati by car, planning to arrive by Saturday morning.

"I didn't sign any papers. I didn't take a pauper's oath, and I didn't pay my fine," the minister said when released. "They just let me go."

He said he was "feeling fine" added, was part of an over-all war on organized crime covering federal violations.

This would include violations of the Mann Act, interstate transportation of women for immoral purposes; the narcotics law; and interstate traffic in forged checks.

Among observers at the issuance of subpoenas and assignment of dates for grand jury appearances were several FBI agents, and Richard B. Ogilvie, special assistant to the U.S. attorney general.

He is directing a separate grand jury investigation into Midwest aspects of organized crime. This jury went into session in February. The Calumet City group will appear before the April jury, being held over.

Benjamin Adamowski, state's attorney, said he would use civil as well as criminal action to clean up conditions in Calumet City.

He said his mass raid was made under a law permitting the filing of suits in equity to secure injunctions against operating public nuisances. Under this procedure search and arrest warrants are not needed, he declared.

Those rounded up in the swoop on Calumet City, Adamowski said, were not booked on any criminal charges but were subpoenaed to appear before the Cook County (Chicago) grand jury starting next week.

He indicated the raid was motivated largely by failure of the Calumet City Council to appoint a new police chief. the former chief, Henry Wleklinski, was dismissed Thursday but the Council declined to accept the mayor's appointment of a successor.

The dismissed chief had been charged with malfeasance for allegedly failing to enforce the laws. The Criminal Court threw out the charges on the ground they were too vague to permit a proper defense.

at 6 p. m. yesterday and ends at midnight Sunday.

In anticipation of this foreboding prediction, the state troopers of the area have been assigned to special duty, according to Capt. M. E. Kidd, of troop F headquartered in Monroe, who added that all leaves have been cancelled so all men will be available.

Along with the Memorial Day weekend comes a revised mail schedule by the area Post Office department. There will be no mail delivery in the Twin Cities over the weekend, except for special delivery items, officials said, and no post office mail windows will be open.

From all indications, area residents will be taking an active part in Memorial Day celebrations, the first open-air holiday of the year. All over the nation, thousands will be paying tribute to those who died in support of our nation, and a great variety of parades and other celebrations are planned.

Regardless of the way in which Memorial Day is celebrated, the National Safety Council warns that care and safety remain the best ticket to another celebration next year.

Testing

The Defense Department released this photograph in Washington, Friday, and said it shows an American-born rhesus monkey displaying its space helmet during a pre-flight test. The department said the helmet and space suit were designed to protect Monkey Able during its flight through space May 28. (U.S. Army Photo via AP Wirephoto)

ANIMAL LOVERS TOLD

Use Of Monkeys Is Necessary

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Defense Department is advising animal lovers that monkeys and mice are shot into space only because the experimental flights are essential to plans for human space travel.

A form letter sent to all those protesting the animal flights emphasizes that the monkeys and mice are treated as humanely as possible. It said no attempt would be made "simply to achieve the spectacular" or to take advantage of "defenseless animals."

The letter said flights such as that in which two tiny monkeys traveled 300 miles into space Thursday and were recovered safely were based on a "generally accepted principle."

This is that the humane use of animals to gather information which can increase the safety and well-being of humans "is preferable to direct experimentation with humans or risking disaster by proceeding in ignorance of fundamental medical knowledge."

In all, the United States has sent six animals down its Atlantic ballistic missile range. The others were a monkey, launched in a Jupiter rocket and three mice fired off in the nose cones of Thor-Able rockets in April and July, 1958. All except Able and Baker were lost.

The department prepared the letter last Jan. 10 after a squirrel monkey like one of those used in Thursday's test was shot into space and never heard from again. The nose cone of the Jupiter rocket was not recovered.

Thus, the department was gear for any protests against the Thursday flight by monkeys Able and Baker. A department spokesman said that so far no protests had been received here although it was a little early.

In Britain, the League Against Cruel Sports and the Conference of Anti-Vivisection Societies criticized the U.S. experiment. The league said "such action as this fall within the category of scientific deviltry rather than scientific research."

Thirty-nine letters of protest were received by the department here after the December monkey was lost. It estimated that several hundred were received elsewhere and by other agencies.

The department said no letter had been received protesting plans to send a man into space. However, animal lovers take the position that human astronauts have a choice of refusing to go.

The monkeys Able and Baker, who are holding a "press conference" in Washington Saturday, were reported in "excellent conditon" by the armed forces.

Solon Plans Soviet Trip In Any Case

WASHINGTON (UPI) —A New York congressman said Friday he's going to Russia to talk over outer space problems with Soviet leaders—with or without the approval of the House Space Committee chairman.

Rep. Victor L. Anfuso (D-N.Y.) said he hoped Chairman Overton Brooks (D-La.) would go along with the idea. But if he deosn't, Anfuso and perhaps some other space committee members are going anyway.

Anfuso revealed earlier this week that he would seek approval to take a subcommittee he heads on such a trip, probably in August.

The congressman said the group wanted to talk to Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev and other Russian leaders about "problems pertaining to peaceful cooperation in outer space exploration."

Brooks' immediate reaction to the idea was cool. He suggested that space committee members check with him before making any plans for junkets overseas. Furthermore, he said, there wasn't any money available—at least right now.

Brooks also hinted that Anfuso might be stepping on the President's toes by making such a trip. Foreign policy is chiefly a responsibility of the executive branch, not Congress.

Angola Farming Manager Dies

BATON ROUGE (AP) — Doyle Colvin, 49-year-old state penitentiary farm manager, died Friday of injuries received in a traffic accident.

Colvin underwent surgery at a local hospital after being injured critically when a car he was driving collided with a prison ambulance at the Angola state prison.

Witnesses said Colvin was trying to turn left off the road as the ambulance passed when the crash occurred.

Funeral services will be held at Ruston Sunday.

NAACP Fears More Lynchings As FBI Quits

JACKSON, Miss. (AP) — The National Assn. for the Advancement of Colored People in Mississippi said Friday it fears more lynchings now that the FBI has withdrawn from the Mack Charles Parker case.

Medgar Evers of Jackson, NAACP field secretary, wrote the house and Senate civil rights subcommittees earlier this week, asking enactment of meaningful civil rights legislation.

The two NAACP petitions were: "Please enact, during this session of Congress, meaningful civil rights legislation, which should include anti-lynch laws to prevent the open invitation to further lynchings left by the withdrawal of the FBI in the Mack Charles Parker incident of Poplarville.

Court Contradictions

Some of the decisons of the United States supreme court seem to be incompatible with other rulings made by that court, even though this incompatibility appears generally to have escaped comment.

In two fairly recent rulings, the high court held that a defendant may be tried by a state court after trial by a federal court or that he may be tried by a federal court after trial by a state court.

Yet, in a decision in which it voided the conviction of a communist under a Pennsylvia sedition law, the court held that the federal government has sedition laws and that the intent of congress is that states may not have laws in the same field after the federal government has acted.

This ruling was made despite the fact that there is a good deal of overlapping of state and federal laws and despite the fact that the supreme court has held that a defendant can be tried twice for the same offense—once in federal court and once in state court—thus depriving the defendant of his constitutional guarantee against "double jeopardy."

The court's rulings on "double jeopardy" and its position that states cannot enforce laws in the fields covered by federal laws not only seem directly contradictory but in both cases the decisions seem unjustified under law and precedent and contrary to the best interests of the states and of the citizens of this country.

In connection with the ruling that states cannot enforce sedition laws because this field is already covered by the federal government, there is cause for elation in the approval by the house judiciary committee of a bill to validate state anti-subversive laws. Chairman Emanuel Celler (D-N.Y.), a dedicated leftist, is strongly opposed to the bill and it had been feared that he would be able to bottle it up in the committee.

The bill, authored by Rep. Howard Smith (D-Va.) would declare that no act of congress supersedes a state law unless congress specifically declares its intention of doing so or unless the laws are clearly incompatible.

In the Pennsylvania sedition case, congress had expressed no such intent and many congressmen, as well as other leaders throughout the nation were jolted by the court's ruling, which took away from the states the right to protect themselves and this country from traitors and advocates of government overthrow.

The Smith bill is one of the most significant pieces of legislation now before congress. If it is enacted into law it will be an encouraging precedent against the growing encroachment of the supreme court on the prerogatives of congress. Millions of Americans feel that the court is making law by judicial decisions, whch is contrary to the constitution. The constitution gives congress sole authority to make law. The supreme court interprets what the law is.

It would be extremely discouraging if the bill should fail. Congress would then be setting the precedent of telling the supreme court that congress has abdicated its constitutional prerogatives and that the court can continue to usurp.

If this decision by the court should be allowed to stand and if carried out to its ultimate conclusion there seems reason to believe that many other state laws would be invalidated. This would accentuate the danger of enacting federal laws covering actions or crimes lying wholly within a state, such as kidnaping, lynching and bootlegging.

If the anti-sedition decision is to be interpreted logically, it would mean that a state has no right to enact an anti - kidnaping law because such a law has already been adopted by congress. It would mean the nullifyng of state laws on bootlegging because federal laws cover bootlegging. It would mean that federal law, in numerous instances, instead of supplimenting or supporting state laws, would supplant them. This would mean turning more and more of our state law enforcement over to federal government.

After enacting the Smith bill, it would seem that congress should take some action to make clear to the supreme court that its rulings must not violate constitutional guarantees made to the citizens of ths country.

"Double jeopardy," or the trying a second time of a person already tried and acquitted or convicted for the same offense, clearly is a violation of the intent of the United States constitution and bill of rights, yet the supreme court has held that two trials for the same offense can be conducted, provided one of them is a state trial and the other a federal trial. This was held to be true regardless of whether or not the first trial was held in federal or state court.

It is extremely difficult to reconcile this ruling with the one which says a state cannot enforce a law when the situation is already covered by a federal law, as in the Pennsylvania sedition case.

Furthermore, constitutionalists believe the supreme court decisions not only were irreconcilable but were wrong in both instances.

Prince Philip's Fun

British newspaper handling of the occasion on whch Prince Philip, Queen Elizabeth's husband, squirted water on two news photographers was appropriately uncomplimentary. One newspaper advised the prince that "squirting water on people who can't squirt back is second-rate humor."

The British press usually handles the royal family with kid gloves, but in a front page editorial headed "Not So Funny," the Evening Star really let the queen's husband have it.

The squirting incident occurred at the Chelsea flower show. Victims were two photographers of the British Press Association, Walter Lockyear and Mark Seymour. They carried passes from Buckingham Palace and, as the Star remarked, represented "the press of the world."

This account was given:

A sprinkling system had been demonstrated to Prince Philip. He was still standing by the control panel when the two cameramen moved into position to take a picture of Queen Elizabeth. The prince said to the two men operating the control panel of the sprinklers: "If I press this, will I get those two photographers?" The men said "Yes." The prince then pressed the button and the photographers were drenched, whereupon the prince laughed loudly.

This type of humor is certainly ill-becoming to the husband of the world's outstanding queen. It is on a practical-joke level of about that of a 12-year-old boy. As the British paper pointed out, squirting water on people who can't squirt back is at least as low as second-rate humor, if not lower.

This is only one of a number of acts by the prince that have displeased the queen. Queen Elizabeth is meticulous in her efforts not to do anything that would offend any of her subjects or that would shock the finer sensibilities of the people of other nations.

The prince's coarse joke could not fail to displease her. There was no indication that she joined in his laughter. In addition to drawing newspaper criticism, he probably received a queenly reprimand after going home.

25th Birthday Reached By Farm Aid Program

Twenty-five years ago the United States government began its agricultural support plan, or, as most of its farmer beneficiaries called it "the farm aid program."

Its original concept was to save the American farmer from disaster. Some of its proponents even enthusiastically proclaimed that it guaranteed the farmer prosperity. Of course that could not have been realistic, nor is it the province of the United States government to single out any element of the population and attempt to guarantee it prosperity.

A quarter of century after the inauguration of the farm program the famer's problems have not been solved, actually in recent years they have been increasing. As for the Government itself it has bought from the farmers surpluses so vast as to present a catastrophic threat.

There is no doubt of the shot in the arm which the agricultural support program gave agriculture in the beginning. Farm recovery aided the economy of the nation as a whole. Many of its features were outmoded before the end of the 1930' and surpluses were reaching enormous proportions. World War II emptied the warehouses of their surpluses. World War II also brought the "incentive" price support legislation, in order to induce the farmer to increase his output.

Farm surpluses, stored at government expense now have reached gigantic proportions as very informed person knows. A new prescription to remedy the situation is needed, but there is every evidence that Congress has little intention of writing it, that anything it does at the present session will be merely to apply some patchwork.

A major reason why there is little liklihood of comprehensive legislation is that every farm organization has a different viewpoint. These organizations want their own program, or they want none at all. Each of these farm organizations is powerful.

There is the additional fact that widespread publicity of enormous payments to some large farmers and farm-co-operatives has turned the urban dweller against the farm program. To this city man such terms as "farm support" and "parity" have become words of scorn. Many of these city dwellers have come to feel that their tax money is being lavished on farmers.

The picture the average city man has formed is a distorted one. Indeed, there are plenty of very reliable statistics which leave no doubt that the employed city workers has done much better than the farmer in the 25 years the farm program has been in effect.

The Agricultural Marketing Service recently gave some figures on the amount of labor required to purchase certain commodities then and now.

For instance one hour of factory labor at the beginning of the farm program would purchase only 6.4 loaves of bread then, it will purchase 11 loaves now. It would purchase 17.7 pounds of potatoes then, it will purchase 33.8 pounds now. It would purchase only 1.2 pounds of steak then, it will purchase 2 pounds now. The ratios are similar for milk, butter, eggs, bacon, and organges. The farmer has been selling eggs at 17 cents per dozen.

Senator Frank Carlson, Republican, of Kansas, one of the ablest men in the United States Senate, recently told that body:

"The major objective behind the farm program as it has operated for nearly twenty five years has been to keep the farmer within respectable economic range of the other segments of our society—the business people, professional classes, white-collared workers and skilled laborers. That is what parity seeks to do.

"The American consumer is getting not only a quantity of high quality foods, but he is getting them at the cheapest cost in our nation's history, based on the consumer's average earnings."

There is strong evidence that the farmer, despite the surpluses he raises to feed the nation's population, with enough left over to fill every conceivable storage facility is not doing as well as his city cousin. Farm employment has plunged to the lowest level since the Department of Agriculture began keeping records on the subject 50 years ago.

It has been proven that prices to the consumer increases even when prices the farmer receives for the product is decreasing. And for every dollar the consumer spent at the supermarket last year the farmer got 40 cents. The other 60 cents covered the cost of handling, processing, transporting and packaging.

There is the fact also that farm products are selling lower, at the farm level, than they sold ten years ago. And they are about the only products of any kind that are selling lower at the productin level.

More Bloating In Government Seen

WASHINGTON, D. C. — Government grows bigger every year, and we should constantly ask — whodunit? Congress gets most of blame, and deserves a large share, but there are three other culprits — Labor, Business and the States.

Take Labor first, not because it is more guilty, but more newsy. The House of Representatives is beginning to consider the Senate-passed Kennedy - Ervin reform bill. If it becomes law, the bill would cause another bloating of the already bulbous bureaucracy.

The K-E bill calls for the creation of at least one new major post — Commissioner of Labor Reports at $17,500 a year — and possibly two or more, including an additional Assistant Attorney General for Labor Affairs. The mere reporting of Labor activities, as provided by the Senate bill, would cost close to $3 million a year to administer, I am told by a top Federal authority.

We should ask — why is a Labor reform law, with its greater government participation, necessary? The answer is in the sky- high record of Labor abuses to be found in the McClellan committee hearings. The misbehavior of Labor unions, chiefly through their officers, made it necessary — or so Congress believes — to pass laws which require detailed reporting on union finances, elections, trusteeships, organizational procedures, conflict - of - interest surveillance and non - Communist affidavits.

This is how Federal bureaucracy grows. But the same thing happens on the side of Business, and as the fault of Business. A previous Congress found it necessary to pass a law on Welfare - Pension plans, requiring disclosure. It was not, like the proposed Labor Law, one with steel - trap teeth in it. There was a large element of voluntarism in the language. So much so, as I have learned, that skilled corporation lawyers have advised their clients not to comply on the grounds that there is no penalty for noncompliance. As a result something like 100,000 firms whose government has asked them to fill out some forms and send in some information have declined to do so.

And the result? Next year, it is almost certain that the Secretary of Labor will advise the President to ask for a law with teeth. The Administration can make a good case for the necessity of a strong law, filled with intricate regulations. The Congress will very likely be impressed with the Administration's case. The probability is that we shall get another law, somewhat like the K-E bill, except that it will be aimed at Business. Here is another example of how and why the Federal government grows and grows.

Although little noticed by the general public, Labor Secretary Mitchell has been trying for several years to obtain voluntary compliance on reporting. It would make for much less paper work and better relationships. Failing voluntaryism, Mitchell has tried make the most of the disclosure principle — as distinct from regulation. If Business and Labor were willing to disclose certain matters of public concern, there would be much less force to the arguments of the Welfare Staters who demand regulation. Once regulations are added, the next thing is inspection and soon the whole community is crawling with Federal agents.

Business and Labor can do these things to hold down the growth of Government. The leaders in each field could begin right now to prevent the next session of Congress from passing epensive and bureaucracy - building laws. The other non - Federal entities which could help to control the Federal growth are the 50 American States. There is certainly no need for uniformity in State laws. One strength and much if the delightfulness of the American Union is that there is a vast variety of local customs about drinking, fishing, gambling, marrying and — despite the Supreme Court — schooling in the separate States.

But there is a distinction between uniformity and due attention to public problems. The workman's compensatiin principle, for example, is a half-century old. The theory is that an industrial worker will waive his right to sue for injury at work in return for a guarantee of just compensation for an injury.

Also, when this happens, the Welfare Staters besiege Congress and demand a new Federal law. Again, this is why the Government keeps growing.

Advice Is Offered On Pin Worm Ills

"What about pinworms?" asks Mrs. L. I. of Mobile, Alabama. "Is it a common infection? Is there a special treatment or does the condition clear up by itself?"

COMMENT: Pinworm (enterobius vermicularis) is perhaps the most common parasitic worm. The diagnosis is made by taking scotch tape smears before bathing. If the findings are negative on three consecutive mornings, chances are the infection is not present. (Incidentally, it is commonly believed that the condition is easily "picked up" from household pets. Untrue. The worms do not infect these animals.)

The most common symptom is itching around the anus. There are, however, many infected persons who have no complaints whatever. As many people will tell you, the condition can be quite stubborn. Do not "hope" that it will clear up by itself.

There have been many recommended forms of treatment. Among these are enemas, mercurial onitment, gentian violet, and piperazine tartrate. Two recent additions to our attack against pinworms are Dithiazanine and Pyrvinium chloride — both are cyanine dyes.

Here are some accepted procedures for removing pinworms from a family. All members of the family, including servants, should be examined by the scotch tape swab method to rule them out as carriers of the infection.

Hands should be kept clean—especially before eating and smoking. There should be a daily change of bedsheets, underwear and sleeping garments. The bathtub, toilet seat and the bathroom floor should be treated with 2 per cent saponated cresol solution.

It should be evident that "pinworms" is a stubborn problem which requires active treatment.

HISTAMINE HEADACHES

"It's bad enough having disabling headaches. But it's my luck to have a highfalutin' kind called Histaminic Cephalalgia," writes Mr. S. K. of Bluefield, West Virginia.

He goes on to say that his doctors have tried practically "everything in the book" without much help. He continues to have attacks of excruciating pain on one side of his face, his eye becomes inflamed and his nose gets blocked up on the same side.

He has had the following treatments; Histamine injections for desensitization, caffeine and ergotamine preparations, aspirin, and ACTH and cortisone.

"Where do I go from here?" he asks.

I agree that your doctors have tried all the conventional treatments that help many patients. In your case, it might be advisable to try another tack. Has there been a search for foci of infection? And how about your diet? You may be allergic to certain foods.

I have known some similar patients who were benefitted by removal of an infected, absessed or dead tooth. Others, by removal of infected tonsils.

I recall some patients whose headaches disappeared "as if by magic" by the elimination of chocolate from their diet. Some found relief after giving up milk or pork.

Your doctor will try various elimination diets in attempting to track down the dietary offender. First he will exclude wheats and other cereals; later, in succession, meats, fish, fruits and vegetables.

COUGHING AFTER CATARACT OPERATION

Mr. L. O. of Brownsvill, Pa., has bronchiis and needs a cataract operation. He is concerned because he has heard that coughing after the procedure is bad.

Fortunately, due to new types of operative techniques, coughing after cataract surgery is not the great taboo it was years ago.

BASCOM TIMMONS

Foreign Aid In Congress Again

The foreign aid bill has started its routine way through Congress for the fourteenth time.

The procedure has been the same in each of the fourteen years and there are many stages of it. The Foreign Affairs Committee of the House of Representatives holds hearings and sets an amount, the House passes a bill. The Senate Foreign Relations Committee holds hearings and sets an amount and the Senate passes a bill. There is a conference between the two branches of Congress and a definite amount is fixed. This carries it no further than legislative authorization.

Then the matter goes through the House and Senate Appropriations committees and onto the floors of both bodies and through another conference and a final floor debate in both branches on the conference sum. Usually after all the huffing and puffing the Administration gets about what it asked for, or at least as much as it expected. In thirteen years this has tabulated around $70 billion.

This year President Eisenhower asked for three billion, nine hundred million. A good guess is that the request will be cut down by about $700,000,000. Congress which at the outset appropriated foreign aid money with great glee and high hopes has progressively been less enthusiastic about it.

What is new this year is that the conservatives who have opposed it have had recruits from the group which are to the left of center politically. One of these, Senator Mike Mansfield of Montana, who is assistant majority leader of the Senate, has given notice that he will offer amendments to the pending foreign aid bill to eliminate defense support and economic assistance grants at the end of three years, which would be the sixteenth year of the life of the program.

Instead of this type of "give-away," Mansfield would shift to a policy of loans. And even in the three years Mansfield will attempt to cut off expenditures on military aid, defense support, economic aid and technical assistance in any country for which the amounts granted are not made public.

It is the contention of the Montana Senator that the people of the United States cannot appraise the result of the vast expenditures because the figures are classified as secret. The Administration is this year asking for one billion, six hundred million for gifts and grants to military aid, eight hundred and thirty five million for defense support and two hundred seventy two million for special assistance grants.

But strong opposition has also risen to the loans which Mansfield and other Senators, notably Fullbright of Arkansas and Kennedy of Massachusetts, ardently espouse. A liberal Democratic Senator, Robert C. Byrd, of West Virginia, said that the loans, which are made through the Development Loan Fund, merely substitute another name in a continuing "give - away" program.

There are "soft" loans, Byrd said, which will be paid back if they are paid back at all in foreign currencies which cannot be converted. "I think it is ridiculous to prostitute the English language by calling this kind of transaction a loan," Byrd told the Senate.

Senator Allen J. Ellender of Louisiana, also told the Senate that the Development Loan Fund at the outset was to help newly independent and underdeveloped countries, and that it was expected that it would be especially beneficial to South America, but that it has been extended to countries better off than the United States is.

Ellender especially attacked a loan to the Netherlands to enable it to resettle immigrants in Australia, insisting that Australia itself could have made the loan and pointed out that Australian government bonds are selling at or above par, while our bonds sink in value month by month.

Another argument the opponents of foreign aid are making this year is that of William McChesney Martin, Jr., chairman of Board of Governors of Fedearl Reserve Board, that the United States dollar is losing its glamor. Our gold stock is diminishing. Some Senators during the consideration of the foreign aid bill will argue that if we keep spending at our present rate the dollar, which is already being viewed with some suspicion abroad, and is already no longer a premium currency it once was, could become a "soft" currency.

Thus it is evident that whatever the amount finally voted for foreign aid, it is on this subject that the big debate will come this year in a Congress which to date has debated little on any topic. There could be some surprise results.

French Blast Kills 14 Men In Old Shaft

MERLEBACH, France (UPI) — An explosion of fire damp gas ripped through a condemned coal mine shaft here Friday, killing at least 14 men who were trying to seal it up.

Another 39 miners and technicians were injured, 34 of them critically. Most of the injured were burned by the flames of the explosion 2,180 feet belob ground in the Sainte Fontaine mine.

Fifty-three men were in the mine to seal off the condemned shaft when a sudden warming of the dank atmosphere touched off the deadly gas. The shaft had been declared condemned because of the poisonous and explosive gases in it.

National Winner

Lynn Parks, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Parks, 15-year-old student at Joseph Moore Davidson High School, won the first national award in the Pillsbury School Bake Off Program, $1,000 scholarship, her school an electric portable mixer, and her advisor a year's membership in the American Home Economics Association.

U.S. Claims Khrush Stirs Up War Fire

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States on Friday accused Soviet Premier Nikita Khrush- of stoking the fires of international tensions at the very time when East and West are seeking peaceful German settlement.

The U.S. statement was issued by the State Department, which referred particularly to what it called Khrushchev's "propaganda campaign of threats" against Greece and Italy.

The Soviet leader is now in Communist Albania, located between the two NATO countries, and has been actively denouncing the U.S. program for shipment of modern missiles to its NATO allies.

The U.S. statement also referred to Moscow's recent blasts as its southern neighbor, Iran, another U.S. ally.

State Department press officer Lincoln White said of Khrushchev: "He should recognize that this right (to choose their own system) extends to the right of free people everywhere to decide for themselves the nature of their own defense in an atmosphere free from the kind of threats which now rain down upon Greece and Italy from Mr. Khrushchev in Albania and upon Iran from Soviet propaganda media.

"The United States government has repeatedly pointed out that the use by the Soviet government of threats which appears deliberately designed to heighten international tensions can scarcely improve the chances of successful negotiations at any level.

"It regrets that, at a time when the governments of the United States, the United Kingdom, and France are engaged in negotiations with the government of the Soviet Union at Geneva, the Soviet government is intensifying its propaganda campaign of threats against nations which, by their own free decisions, are taking adequate measures for the defense of their independence and territorial integrity."

The U. S. announcement hit back in particular at a speech Khrushchev made in the Albanian town of Korce Thursday. Khrushchev had warned the Greeks of "serious consequences" and the Italians of making "a great mistake" in accepting U.S. missiles.

In retaliation, Khrushchev said, the Reds may set up in Albania rocket sites which he pictured as able to shower death-dealing missiles on nearby Greece and Italy.

Schedule Trial For Pascagoula Union Official

PASCAGOULA, Miss. (AP) — Trial was set Friday for June 8 for a Pascogoula union official accused of firing a pistol when two fishermen attempted to collect money they claimed was due them.

At a preliminarf hearing here Justice of the Peace John D. Henley granted a motion for a jury trial for W. J. Higginbotham, local secretary for the Fishermen's and Allied Workers Union, an AFL-CIO affiliate.

Higginbotham was arrested Tuesday by sheriff's deputies on a warrant signed by K. E. Baron and Clyde Broadus, Pascagoula fisherman. He was released after posting a $500 cash bond.

Sam Lumpkin Steps Down From Office

TUPELO, Miss. (AP) — After 28 years as a state legislator, Rep. Sam Lumpkin retired from politics Friday. He urged up-and-coming politicians not to use race hatred to gain votes.

The former lieutenant governor announced his retirement at a press conference at his law office here. Lumpkin, 50, has been in poor health. He said he would devote himself to his private practice.

In his farewell talk, Lumpkin urged the state's politicians to stop trying to humiliate the Negro race.

"Rather, they should help them manifest a pride in their race, churches, schools and institutions," he said.

Mississippi has fared better than any other state in race relations. Our colored population has been and is now being subjected to great pressures from the outside.

"The present white leadership has done an exceptional job, but I must add that the colored leadership should be congratulated on helping to maintain our separate and equal facilities."

On the subject of the race issue, the state's touchiest problem, Lumpkin said, "We cannot 'hate' ourselves into a better world."

He urged candidates not to conduct campaigns of "hate and bitterness." The vast majority of both races do not want integration and will use every means possible to prevent it, he said.

"During the years I held public office, I have championed progressive government," said Lumpkin. "What we need in the Mississippi Legislature today as never before is young, aggressive thinking. We have been slaves to what is commonly called our traditional way of life.

"Our legislators, during my tenure of office, have been afraid of change in government. Our governmental structure is 70 years behind the 20th century.

"I have found that most of the leadership in governmental affairs has tried to prejudice the people rather than lead them toward an intelligent and enlightened system of government."

Lumpkin will remain as Tupelo's city attorney, but said he will retire from that post when his term ends in 1961.

Funeral Director Official At Meet

Tom Mulhearn of Monroe, president of the Louisiana Funeral Directors Association will preside at a meeting of funeral directors from two states this week end at Biloxi, Miss.

The meeting is that of the Louisiana and Mississippi associations. Speakers at the sessions will come from many sections of the nation, Mulhearn said. The meeting will run Sunday through Tuesday.

Featured at the meeting will be displays of latest types of mortuary equipment.

High Winds Cut Power In City

Residents on the northside yesterday afternoon experienced electrical failure for about an hour and a half after Monroe was lashed by high winds from coastal squalls.

A utility department troubleshooter said that the wind apparently blew two live wires together in an alley between Milton and Park Ave.

The burned wires fell in a treetop and had to be removed and repaired before power was restored to this section of town.

King Listens To Liberators In New York

NEW YORK (UPI)—King Baudouin of Belgium kept a group of dignitaries, including former President Herbert Hoover, waiting Friday while he chatted with two American ex-soldiers who helped liberate him from the Nazis in 1945.

The incident occurred in the Waldorf-Astoria Hotel where 1,000 distinguished New Yorkers were gathered in the swank Starlight Roof for an official city luncheon in honor of the King.

Baudouin was introduced to former Army corporals, Joseph J. Kratzer and Joseph M. Sassano, as he stepped into the room.

Besides Hoover, those who stood asided and waited included Francis Cardinal Spellman and Mayor Robert F. Wagner.

"This is a great surprise," said the beaming King, shaking hands with Kratzer and Sassano.

Then he listened while they told him they were members of a reconnassance party near Strobl, Austria, on May 7, 1945. The soldiers learned that the then Prince Baudouin, his father and other members of the royal family were being held prisoner at a nearby villa. The Americans disarmed the Nazi troops at the gate and liberated the family.

"I'll never forget that day," said the King. "I am forever grateful to you both and to your comrades."

Wreck Victim Improving At Bastrop Clinic

BASTROP (Special) — James Roy Pratt, 61, Crockett, Tex., survivor of a car-train crash near here Thursday in which his wife and son were killed, was reported improving in a local hospital last night.

Mrs. Pratt, 60, and James Roy Pratt Jr., 29, both died from crushed chests and skull injuries.

Pratt suffered six fractured ribs and multiple lacerations and contusions.

The family was en route to Oak Grove to visit a daughter, Mrs. Ed Cannon, when their car collided with a northbound Missouri Pacific freight train at Mer Rouge.

After being hit by the freight, the Pratt car was pushed about 40 feet until it was stopped by a metal signal on side of the tracks. All three occupants were thrown from the vehicle.

BEFORE SENATE GROUP

Coleman Declines Discussing Report

WASHINGTON (AP) — Gov. J. P. Coleman of Mississippi declined yesterday to discuss an FBI report on the Mack Charles Parker lynching with a Senate judiciary subcommittee because he said it would have the effect of trying the case in the papers in advance of the grand jury.

Coleman told the subcommittee the report will be given to the local district attorney in plenty of time to prepare his case for the next regular session of the Pearl River County, Miss., grand jury in November.

Government sources have said the FBI report named the men who kidnaped Parker from a Poplarville, Miss., jail, shot him to death and dumped his body in the Pearl River. The 23-year-old Negro was accused of raping a pregnant white mother.

Coleman and three other Mississippians appeared before the subcommittee to testify on civil rights legislation.

But Sen. William Langer (R-ND) brought the Poplarville case into the hearing after Coleman completed a brief statement opposing the pending civil rights bills.

The Justice Department withdrew from the case last Monday, saying no federal law was broken. An FBI report on the case was turned over to Coleman for use in any local prosecution of the persons involved.

Coleman said he couldn't discuss the case because Mississippi law requires that evidence submitted to grand juries be kept secret.

He said he received word of the lynching late at night and immediately ordered that the FBI be called into the case because he wanted to show the world that the people of Mississippi don't believe in mob rule. condemn mob rule and would prosecute those responsible.

Coleman said he was aware that under the Lindbergh law the FBI could automatically enter the case in 24 hours, but he didn't want to give the guilty persons a 24-hour start.

About news stories that the FBI report had solved the case and named those responsible for the April 25 lynching, Coleman said he had read such a story but "it doesn't give any government source."

"I don't believe I want to shadowbox with any unidentified source," he said.

There was some discussion of a Mississippi case in which a Negro convicted of killing a white person was freed because no Negroes were on the venire from which the jury was picked.

Coleman said courts had held for years that this defense argument had to be raised early and that federal courts now have ruled a defendant must make an intelligent waiver of such an issue.

As a result, Coleman said, if a white man is convicted he is executed promptly while if a Negro is convicted he cannot be.

Parker's lawyer had indicated he planned to use such a defense, Coleman said.

"I make no alibi or excuse for the Poplarville incident," he said. "but candor forces me to point out the unrest over Mississippi as a result of the previous cast."

Langer said in his state Indians vote and serve on juries and he could see no distinction between Negroes and Indians.

The North Dekota senator said he thought there was some justification to complaints that Negroes are not allowed to vote and serve on juries in Mississippi when in Pearl River County not one Negro ever has served on a jury.

Coleman said only male voters are eligible to serve on juries in Mississippi. He said he didn't know of one instance in which Negroes were prevented from registering as voters. He asked if Mississippi should try to force Negroes to register and pay poll taxes.

"If Mississippi is to be required to assume responsibility for a negative atitude, I don't know where we would wind up," Coleman said.

The other witnesses from Mississippi included Atty. Gen. Joe Patterson, W. B. Alexander, a state senator from Boyle, Miss.; and Percy Greene, a Negro and editor of The Jackson Advocate.

Greene, who has received awards for his contributions to better race relations, said the 1954 Supreme Court ruling on school integration and various civil rights bills since have widened the gap between races.

"We were on the road then to a situation reflecting good for the Negro, without the necessity of any civil rights legislation," Greene said.

Alexander said a vast majority of the Negroes in Mississippi do not want integration.

Patterson said he had hoped that the results of the 1957 civil rights bill would have discouraged the advocates of such measures and made them realize the end they sought cannot be accomplished by law.

Instead, Patterson said, they apparently feel that the 1957 act was not harsh enough and that they now want to put across even harsher measures.

Judge Calls For Silence Of News Leaks

POPLARVILLE, Miss. (AP) Circuit Judge Sebe Dale, judicial hub of the Mack Charles Parker lynching, called Friday for an end to "piecemeal leaks" from government sources on the case.

"If the government has turned over all its evidence to (Mississippi) Gov. J. P. Coleman," Judge Dale said, ""then it ought to stop these piecemeal leaks and not try the case in the newspapers."

he said. "The ones to make the decision on how to prosecute are the district attorneys and county attorneys. It's not my decision."

Judge Dale said there was some "merit" to Gov. Coleman's opinion that the State Supreme Court regularly throws out special grand jury indictments. That was the reason Coleman gave a Senate Judiciary subcommittee for waiting for the November session.

"Indictments are often quashed when a special grand jury is convened for a specific case," he said. "That tends to put the light on certain men. But a special court term is perfectly valid when it is needed to bring a docket up to date. And such a special term under those court term is perfectly valid when it is needed to bring a docket up to date. And such a special term under those circumstances can be called without invalidating indictments."

The judge added, however, his circuit is so busy, he would not be able to try indictments of a special grand jury until November anyway.

The most that could be done would be to issue warrants and make arrests, he said.
I am not condoning any lynching."

Pharmaceutical Officers Named

Joe Maggio, Monroe pharmacist, succeeds Wirt Rodgers of Bastrop as president of the Fifth District Pharmaceutical Association. Maggio was elected at the regular meeting of the association earlier this week.

Other officers chosen include Don Milam, Ruston, vice president; and Walter Pierron, Monroe, secretary - treasurer.

Board of directors elected were Paul Hammond, Gilbert, Jake Ussery, Monroe; A. S. Gunter, Monroe; John Sampognaro, Monroe; and Dean Ralph Wilson, Northeast State College School of Pharmacy.

The board of directors met after the regular meeting to formulate a program for the coming year.

IN ELECTION TODAY

Singapore Sheds British Influence

SINGAPORE (AP) — This British island colony, a funnel for Southeast Asia's trade and a focus for its political troubles, sheds most if its British rule Saturday in an election dominated by leftists.

Few expect anything but victory for the tightly organized People's Action party (PAP) over its badly divided Conservative opposition.

Balloting is compulsory for the 586,000 registered voters. Half the island's 1,500,000 inhabitants are illiterate, and 80 per cent are Chinese. Their feelings toward Communist China are a major question. Political sentiments here have a way of erupting into violent riots.

The militant, left-wing PAP is run by a 36-year-old, British-educated labor lawyer named Lee Kuan Yew, a moderate in an extremist group.

"It's us versus the white man," the PAP secretary general tells rallies while insisting PAP's social programs are a guarantee against communism taking a firmer hold in Singapore.

PAP is the only one of 13 parties to run candidates for all 51 seats in Singapore's Legislature.

Its two major opposing parties are the Singapore People's Alliance, formed only last year by Chief Minister Lim Yew Hock and closely linked with the fiercely anti-Communist party governing neighboring Malaya; and the Liberal Socialists, composed of Conservatives who refuse to join Lim and are sure to drain off votes.

The new government will control all local affairs except internal security.

The British, who took over Singapore in 1819 and built it from a dismal swamp into a busy port, will keep their big naval base on the north side of the island. They also will control defense and all foreign affairs except those dealing with commerce and cultural relations.

The colony will change to a semi-independent state in the British Commonwealth.

Miami Realtor Claims Pesos Are All His

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—Sam Kay, Miami Beach real estate operator and money lender, said Friday the 3,767,500 Cuban pesos taken in a Mexico City holdup Thursday night belonged to him — "and I hope I can deduct them from my income tax."

The holdup took place on a Mexico City street. Kay's daughter, Mrs. Marilyn Thal, was reportedly shot in the arm by the robbers, but Kay said "nobody was hurt."

Kay, 67, said the pesos were "legitimate."

They came to him, he said, from a Cuban combine to which he sold the Biltmore Terrace Hotel in Miami Beach last month.

It was the second time in 24 hours that Kay had become embroiled in Latin matters. He was one of several persons charged by the Dominican military intelligence with a plot to sneak Fulgencio Batista, former Cuban dictator, into the United States.

Kay said, "I don't know anything about such a deal."

He declined to say how many pesos he was supposed to get for the Biltmore Terrace. The purchase price has been reported to be in the neighborhood of 9 million pesos.

Kay said he accompanied his daughter to Mexico a week ago and took the pesos in. Asked if the Mexican customs saw the money, he replied, "I suppose they did."

In Ciudad Trujillo, the military intelligence service (SIM) claimed that Kay was one of a group planning to stage a phony "kidnap" of Batista and take him to the United States, where he wants to live.

SIM said the plotters have been meeting in Miami at the hotel Sandy Surf, owned by Kay's son, Sanford.

"I don't know anything about it," Kay said. "The Sandy Surf was sold by my son five weeks ago to a J. W. Dixon of Fort Pierce (Florida)."

Roads Filled With Holiday Rest Seekers

Day holiday period since World War II was in 1953. Traffic fatalities then numbered 241. That figure stands as a record for a 2-day observance of the holiday.

During the 3-day Memorial Day period last year 371 traffic deaths were reported. There also were 132 deaths by drowning and 88 in accidents of other kinds for a total of 591.

During the recent nonholiday period covered by the AP survey the all-accident total was 368. It included 262 deaths in traffic, 32 by drowning and 74 in the miscellaneous bracket.

Prisoner Hangs Despite Tear Gas By Sheriff

NEW ULM, Minn. (AP)—Tear gas failed to stop a youthful prisoner from hanging himself inside the Brown County jail here Friday.

David Kraus, 16, locked a cellblock door from the inside and put his head through a noose while Sheriff Louis Adam tried to get through the door.

Adam fired a tear gas shell at Kraus in an attempt to stop the youth, but Kraus died. He left a despondent note, Adam said.

The youth had just been returned from Juvenile Court where he had been turned over to District Court for prosecution for grand larceny.

The cellblock door had been left open, with the key in it. Adam said the door, when locked from one side, cannot be opened, even with a key from the other. The door had to be opened with a cutting torch.

Funds Allotted For Work On Parish Roads

L. U. Fourmy, Ward 10, commented, "I tried to get sealing for the roads two years ago."

Vice - president W. O. Roberts, Ward 7, urged that the road crew begin repairs at the point "where we left off last year, then start again when this is done instead of skipping some Wards."

Voting "No" to the proposal that each ward decide what work will be done on its roads were: C. A. Kincaid, Monroe, Ward 4, and Ollie C. Carter, Tom Hicks and Percy Nichols, all of Ward 5, West Monroe.

During 1958, Northeast Louisiana was declared a "disaster area" and became eligible for reimbursement through Civil Defense for funds spent on public repairs.

However, Jury President M. W. Montgomery disclosed last night that since the parish used some of its own gravel, and had its own men working regular time on the emergency work, Ouachita might lose out on any reimbursement. The special meeting was called last night to appoint representatives who would try to obtain a refund.

"A state engineer was sent up here, and he okayed the work done on the job. We bought some gravel from Riser, Anding and Wiltz, but don't have sufficient invoices to satisfy the federal government," he expalined.

H. A. Wales, assistant road superintendent was named substitute representative for the trip to New Orleans Sunday. Representatives will meet with C. D. officials to try to iron out difficulties, and return to Monroe Monday night.

THUMBS DOWN

Jurors turned thumbs down on building a new warehouse for voting machines. "Let the state do it," they said, after reading a May 21 letter from Douglas Fowler, state custodian requesting a decision.

Irvin W. Kilpatrick, Ward 10, asked the jurors whether high school boys would be hired again this year for road work.

"They cleaned a lot of canals and cleared lots of rights of ways that we wouldn't have had done by now," noted Wells about the youths hired last summer.

Kincaid mentioned "We don't have the money to hire anyone else now," and Nichols suggested using prisoners from the parish jail, but was informed this is impossible.

"We have a committee (the Advisory Committee appointed in January) that was going to work it up right after the April election (on the possibility of a penal farm or some other way to utilize parish prisoners) but we haven't heard a word from them," stated Montgomery.

Roberts and Nichols suggested hiring a full-time crew, and the matter was then postponed until the next meeting, June 10.

Kilpatrick stood up and related that Rep. Lawrence Gibbs had visited him and several other police jurors during the week with regard to the bill in the Legislature to change the District Attorney's salary.

"I believe he's doing a pretty good job representing us, and I want to include our other two representatives (Rep. Gilbert Faulk, Sen. James Sparks) in this commendation," he stated.

The jurors voted to advertise for bids on 440 barrels of cement for a demonstration of new road machinery on Raymond Drive by Contractor's Equipment Co., approved a contract with Tri-State elevator company to service the Courthouse elevator at $78 per month, and approved a liquor license application for Jean Inzina for 1516 Sterlington Road.

They went into 10-minute executive session to discuss the possibility of more than two road inspections per year, starting in 1960.

Union Official Posts $25,000 After Charges

MINEOLA, N.Y. (AP) — A top official of the Teamsters Union was placed under $25,000 bail Friday on jukebox rackteeering charges.

John J. O'Rourke, 59, international vice president of the Teamsters and general organizer, and 14 other men were accused in Nassau County indictments of threatening strong-arm punishment to Long Island jukebox owners who did not pay "labor fees."

O'Rourke, a long-time friend of Teamsters President James R. Hoffa, was named general organizer last December.

Three officials of Teamsters Local 266 were among the 15 defendants, charged variously with conspiracy, coercion, extortion, and attempted extortion.

"Our evidence indicates that O'Rourke is an important member of this conspiracy," said Dist. Atty. Mancel Levine.

Levine said Local 266 was organized "purely for the purpose of extorting and coercing and restraining from the proper conduct of their business."

Other officials said the union levied initiation fees of $25 for jukebox owners. plus dues of $5 a month, and 65 cents a month for each machine in operation.

Those indicted included Joseph Degrandis, 53, president of the local; Frank Deforte, 36, vice president; and Ernest R. Zundel, 62. secretary-treasurer.

Other indicted: Larry Gallo, Joseph Gallo, Herbert Jacobs, Norman J. Clark, Vincent Losquadro, Philip Losquadro, Charles Deforte, Kenneth Capiazzo, Pasquale Catroppa, Eugene Jacob, and Anthony Pafumi, most of them Brooklyn residents.

O'Rourke and 11 others were arraigned before County Judge Paul J. Widlitz. Bail was set at $10,000 each, except for the $25,000 for O'Rourke. and $5,000 each for the Losquadro brothers.

Jacob surrendered later.

Joseph Gallo and Anthony Pafumi still were being sought.

The Nassau County grand jury began its investigation three weeks ago. The probe developed from the U.S. Senate rackets probers revelations of widespread racketeering in the jukebox industry.

CAN SHIPMENTS FALL

NEW YORK (UPI) — The can manufacturers institute Friday deported a 2.6 per cent drop in industry shipments in the first quarter this year from the same period of 1958. The institute noted however, that March shipments rose 12.2 per cent above the February total.

Negro Body Is Found At Beating Scene

SELMA, Ala. (AP)—The body of a Negro was found Friday near where two other Negroes were beaten by white men. A state toxicologist said he died of natural causes.

The body of Horace Bell, 72, Montgomery, was found in a field on the Dallas County Public Lake Reservation earlier in the day. The body was found in a wide search started after complaints from Montgomery Negro leaders.

Dr. C. J. Rheling, a state toxicologist, said Bell apparently had died of a heart attack. Rheling said he and Z. V. Pruitt, an associate toxicologist, performed an autopsy at the scene where the body was found.

Rheling said Bell fell face downward, across fishing equipment that he was carrying and a knapsack still was hanging at his side.

L. B. Carroll, 29, and John Foster, 17, both of Montgomery, told officers they were dragged from their automobile Saturday on a road leading to the lake and beaten by a group of white men. Carroll suffered a broken arm and Foster was injured less seriously.

The victims said they were unable to describe their attackers or to say how many there were.

Bell had been reported missing late Saturday, but Sheriff Jim Clark said he talked with members of the family in Montgomery who told him that the elderly Negro often disappeared for several days at a time.

Clark said the family expressed no concern over his disappearance and he dropped the search.

FLOWN TO CAPITOL

Able And Baker Will Meet Press

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Space monkeys Able and Baker arrived here Friday night for a "press conference" Saturday before retiring to an earth-bound life fo ease at Army and Navy laboratories.

The lady monkeys rode to the capital from San Juan, Puerto Rico, aboard a four-engined military transport plane. They had been taken to San Juan by the U.S.S. Kiowa which recovered the nose cone of the Jupiter missile that carried them into space Thursday.

The monkeys were said to be in excellent condition after having taken a 1,500-mile trip into space during which they reached a height of 300 miles and zoomed along at a speed of 10,000 miles an hour.

Able and Baker, this country's sole space veterans, will be presented formally to the public at their "press conference" by scientists who wish the monkeys could talk. Even so, they radioed back valuable data via electronic equipment.

Able, a seven - pound rhesus monkey and native of Independence, Kan., will live out the rest of her days with old friends at the Walter Reed Institute of Research here. She underwent much of her month-long astronautical training at the institute.

Baker, the one-pound squirrel monkey, was taken to the animal section at the Navy Medical Center, Bethesda, Md., since she is a Navy lady. She was trained at the Naval Avitaion School of Medicine, Pensacola, Fla., and will live out her life there.

WILL OBSERVE MONKEYS

Both monkeys will be closely observed for the rest of their natural lives to determine any long-term effects of their space journey. When they die autopsies will be performed on them.

Officials of the government space agency were unable to say whether any special feast would be set before the monkeys as a reward for their experience.

At San Juan, Maj. Gerald A. Champlain, commanding officer of the space operation, said both monkeys were eating and happy when they arrived there. He said they showed "no gross effects" from their space trip.

Grandma Grad Is 64; Heads For College

NEW ALBANY, Ind. (AP) — A 64-year-old grandmother finally won her high school diploma Friday night.

Mrs. George Miller of Sellersburg, Ind., says she may go on to college next fall.

The Sellersburg High School closed when Mrs. Miller was a teen-ager, and her parents couldn't afford to send her to the nearest school in Jeffersonville.

Later she married and had four children—three daughters who are teaching school themselves and a son killed in World War II.

Dr. W.B. Jones Dies In Nashville

Dr. W. B. Jones, secretary of the Mississippi Methodist Conference for 50 years and relative of Mrs. Lula M. Grimsley of Monroe, has succumbed in Nashville, Tenn.

Brother of the late Mrs. Martha Jones Kennedy of Downsville, Dr. Jones has several nieces, nephews and cousins in the Monroe area. Funeral services were held in Mississippi.

AS POSSIBLE PICK

Gubernatorial List Cites Howard

SHREVEPORT, La. (AP)—The Young Citizens for Better Government group Friday announced the names of six men as potentials from which to pick candidates for governor and lieutenant governor of Louisiana in the Democratic primary next fall.

Lloyd E. Lenard, chairman of the upcoming organization, listed the six as state Senator Jackson B. Davis of Shreveport, District Judge James Bolin of Minden, Mayor W. L. (Jack) Howard of Monroe, David G. Evans of New Orleans, past president of the Louisiana Junior Chamber of Commerce; Bobby Angers of Franklin, a newspaper publisher; and U.S. Rep. Harold McSween of Alexandria.

Original plans of the group to sponsor candidates were announced May 21. Lenard reported that the group, composed of men under 40 years of age, will meet in Alexandria Saturday, June 6, to select the two candidates.

Lenard said about 200 are expected to attend the Alexandria meeting and that the 40-year age limit is not binding. The organization, Lenard said, has no commitment except that of better government. He said the citizens response has been good and the people are interested in the movement.

Lenard said none of the six men named is actively seeking either office and the announcement is a surprise to some of them.

"We are seeking them," Lenard added. He said the leaders in the movement know all of the six men personally and that they "represent the highest moral and political thinking."

In Monroe yesterday, Mayor Howard issued the following statement:

"I have just learned of a movement by a group of citizens and their efforts to secure progressive, moral, christian leadership for the forthcoming gubernatorial election. This is a ray of hope at a time when many citizens of our great state bow their heads in shame. Certainly, I cannot help but admire and encourage such a movement, for we have reached a point where we must throw off the shackles of professional politics and politicians. There are many qualified honorable men in the State of Louisiana who could rally support from all political factions within our state and give us government of which we can be proud. Such a movement deserves the support of citizens throughout the State.

"The people of Monroe have honored me by electing me Mayor and it is my desire to serve out my term."

What is a juvenile delinquent? Most states classify a child as delinquent if he violates any public law or ordinance, runs away from home or if his habitual disobedience is beyond control of his parents.

HERE is a pleasant little game that will give you a message every day. It is a numerical puzzle designed to spell out your fortune. Count the letters in your first name. If the number of letters is 6 or more, subtract 4. If the number is less than 6, add 3. The result is your key number. Start at the upper left-hand corner of the rectangle and check every one of your key numbers, left to right. Then read the message the letters under the checked figures give you.

One letter simply stands for another. In this sample A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophes, the length and formation of the words are all hints. each day the code letters are different.

DRIVERS UNHAPPY

'Hot And Humid' Forecast For Memorial Day Classic

By JERRY LISKA

INDIANAPOLIS (AP) — The weather the daredevil drivers hate-hot and humid-is in prospect for the 500-mile auto race at the vast Indianapolis Motor Speedway Saturday.

Two former winners, 26 other veteran drivers and five rookies form the 33-car starting line-up.

And there is a possibility predicted showers and thunderstorms could postpone the 43rd annual speed classic from Memorial Day to Monday.

The only other time this happened to the weather-lucky big race was in 1915, when the event was shifted from Saturday to Monday and was won by Ralph de Palma at a then-snappy 89.84 m.p.h. average.

Track officials are confident the race will be completed before rain slicks up the oil-streaked 2½-mile course, but concede humid, 85-90 degree temperatures could make this more than ever a test of driving endurance.

Ordinarily, the trick of winning this race is for a nervy driver to keep his snarling, sleek, little machine healthy and hopping over the long and wearing grind.

But when track temperatures hit 100 degrees (which happens when normal temperature is around 90), the cramped little cockpits become torture chambers. This last happened in 1953 when the late Bill Vukovich proved a man of steel in capturing the first of his two consecutive 500-mile triumphs.

In that 1953 race, one driver, Carl Scarborough, died from heat exhaustion and relief drivers had to be used 25 times. Vukovich, who also won the 1954 race and was killed in the 1955 event, was one of the few drivers in 1953 to go without relief.

Only seven relief drivers have been approved by the U. S. Auto Club for Saturday.

Rain has not interferred with the 500 since showers shortened the 1950 race to 345 miles, with Johnny Parsons the victor.

The amazing influx of racing fans rose to its peak as time neared for the starting bomb to explode at 11 a.m., EST. An official estimate is never announced, but this amazing spectacle, somewhat like all the nation's state fairs rolled into one, undoubtedly will send more than 200,000 people streaming onto the Speedway's sprawling 515 acres.

On the basis of trials, the tender babying of the Offenhauser-powered chariots and increased use of a powerful fuel additive called nitro methane, the 500 speed record may fall.

The present mark is 135.601, set by Sam Hanks two years ago in the same yellow Belond Special which will be seeking a third-consecutive victory and the second in a row for its present pilot, cigar-chomping Jimmy Bryan.

But Bryan, like the other returning winner, flamboyant Pat Flaherty, are buried in the middle of the starting line-up. Flaherty won in 1956.

There is no outstanding favorite, but the first row includes three drivers who will be tough to beat. They are pole-winner Johnny Thomson, who qualified at 145.908, Eddie Sachs, and Jim Rathmann.

Veterans Rodger Ward and Dick Rathmann, Jim's brother, and the top-fualifying rookie, Bobby Grimm, all in the second row, also are favored in this greasy quest for gold and glory. At stake is almost $325,000 in prize money with about $110,000 going to the winner.

SWARM FROM BEHIND

Redlegs Rally To Beat Pirates, 8-5

CINCINNATI (AP) — The Cincinnati Reds swarmed from behind with two homers and four runs in the fifth inning Friday night and hung on for a 8-5 victory over Pittsburgh's Pirates.

Vada Pinson's second home run of the night highlighted the Cincinnati outburst.

Pinson's teammate, Frank Robinson, also hit two homers, but so did Pirate Bob Skinner.

The tight relief pitching of Bob Mabe and Tom Acker helped Cincinnati get out from under, and Mabe got the victory.

Both teams frittered away early two-run leads.

Reds' starter Brooks Lawrence failed to survive the third inning. The Reds' big surge sent Pirate Ron Kline to an early shower.

Pinson's first homer, in the third, cut the Pirate edge to one run. In the fifth, Johnny Temple walked and Pinson's second four-base poke put the Reds ahead. Then Jerry Lynch singled and Robinson banged his 13th home run of the season.

Pittsburgh, a team that whipped the Reds four straight last week, could not recoup.

Cincinnati had picked up two runs in the first inning on two singles, a walk and Gus Bell's foreceout that was tardily relayed home, allowing two Reds to score.

In the third, Kluszewski's second double brought in Bill Virdon and Smoky Burgess who had singled.

Aragon Drops Caballero In Third Round

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Art (Golden Boy) Aragon of Los Angeles found a fighting but easy target Friday night and knocked out Rocky Caballero of Austin, Tex., in 1:37 of the third round of their scheduled 10-rounder at the Hollywood Stadium.

Aaron weighed 151½, Caballero 154½.

Aragon sent Caballero to the canvas twice, each itme for a count of 9, in the third round.

He had the Texan in trouble and apparently ready for another knockdown when Referee George Latka stopped the fight.

Aragon was ahead on points and under California rules, Latka could call it a knockout although a full 10-count was not made.

The unheralded Caballero went down fighting but was outclassed when Aragon unleashed his heavy bombardment with both hands. A terrific left hook to the chin put Caballero on the deck the first time.

He was badly hurt and went down the second time under a series of at least 15 lefts and rights.

Pratt Captures Junior College Tennis Crown

ROCHETTER, Minn. (AP)—Larry Rhodes and Tom Brungardt topped the doubles Friday to pace Pratt, Kan., Junior College to the team championship in the National Junior College Tennis tournament.

The Pratt duo defeated Warren Lytinski and Charles Baker of Rochester in the finals 2-6, 6-4, 6-3. Bob Folz of Phoenix, Ariz., beat Herbert Westover of Grand Rapids, Mich., 6-2 and 6-2, for the singles championship.

Pratt took the team title with a total of 12 points. Arkansas City, Kan., was runner-up with 10. Next in order were Rochester 7, Grand Rapids and Phoenix 6 each, Kilgore, Tex., 5, Erie Tech of Buffalo, N.Y., 2, Mohawk Valley, Utica, N.Y., 2, and Concordia of St. Paul, Minn., 1.

Drivers Get Stern Warning From Officials

INDIANAPOLIS (AP) — Officials of the Indianapolis Motor Speedway, worried by two straight years of bloody and costly starts, issued stiff warnings Friday to drivers in Saturday's 500-mile auto race.

Chief Steward Harlan Fengler told the 33 racers in a trackside meeting that severe penalties will be waiting for anyone who jumps the gun on the pace lap or tries to improve his position during burning of the yellow light that indicates danger on the track.

The Memorial Day classic this year is returning to the old method of starting—all 33 cars lined up on the track in 11 rows of three each according to their qualifying speed. The powerful engines then will be started, and the racers will follow the stock model pace car for two laps until they are in proper position.

For the last two years the race was started with cars coming out of the pits to take up positions behind the moving pace car. In 1957 two cars were knocked out of the race in a pace lap crash. Last year driver Pat O'Connor was killed in a 15-car pileup on the first lap of the race after a delayed start.

Little League

The Palace downed Friendly Finance, 8-1, in the Southside Little League last night.

Factor, who had a perfect night at the plate with 2-2, was the winning hurler with Corbin as his catcher. Both members of the winning battery homered.

Bloomer had two hits in three trips for the losers, while Bennett and Wright handled the mound chores.

INGLEWOOD, Calif. (AP) — A $2 ticket to win on a horse returned $102 at Hollywood Park Friday. The winner's name: Lotsoloot.

Land Upsets Buchholz In Tulsa Tennis

TULSA, kla. (AP) — Gene Land, Oklahoma City, registered the first major upset of the Tulsa Tennis Club's invitational tournament Friday by beating third-seeded Earl Buchholz, St. Louis, 6-1, 6-1.

The unseeded Oklahoma champion's surprisingly easy triumph came in the quarter-finals of the second annual meet.

Buchholz, last year's Wimbledon junior champion and the nation's ninth-ranked player, earlier showed the effects of recent illness as he dropped the first set in beating Buddy McCune, Tulsa, in a delayed first round match. He rallied strongly in the final two sets for a 3-6, 6-1, 6-2 decision.

In a milder form reversal, St. Louis junior Chuck McKinley ousted Don Dell, Bethesda, Md., the tourney's fourth-seeded entry, 6-3, 1-6, 6-1. Dell won this year's Eastern Intercollegiate Championship while playing for Yale University.

The meet's two big attractions, Ham Richardson and Bernard Bartzen, beat back Australian opposition to enter the semifinals.

WEST MONROE PLAYS TODAY

Rouse Shuts Out Millers On 2 Hits

By BOB ANDERSON

Righthander Jerry Rouse gave Monroe its second straight shutout with a crisp two-hitter as the Sports blanked Crossett, 4-0, here Friday night in a brief La-Ark League contest.

Rouse gave up a leadoff double to Harold Young then retired 15 men in a row before Phil Higginbotham whacked a single to open the sixth, striking out six and walking none along the way in the hour and 15 minute game.

Meanwhile, the Sports combed lefty Frank Vickers for 11 hits, five of them in a three-run fourth. Eddie McGowen, Ike McMullen and Louis Kincaid paced the attack with two safeties each.

The win gave Bob Carter's Sports a 2-0 mark for the young season and a half-game lead over Bastrop and West Monroe, in action today. Lefty Jay Gross blanked Dubach, 2-0, last Sunday in the Sports' first game.

Young was the only Crossett runner to get past first. Rouse had pinpoint control and fanned three in a row in the second plus the leadoff batter in the third.

VOLS PLAY HERE

The other four teams in the La-Ark League are in action today with West Monroe hosting Dubach in a 2 o'clock contest in Legion Stadium and Bastrop meeting Oak Grove in a night game at Lake Providence.

The 7:30 meeting at Lake Providence will go nine innings.

The other runner, Higginbotham, was quickly erased with a sparkling McGowen - to - Petras-to-Bryan double play in the sixth.

Monroe got two hits in the first, a single by McMullen and a double by catcher Buddy O'Conner, and one each in the second and third but didn't nick Vickers until the fourth.

James Mock led off the frame with a grounder between second and first that second sacker Hubert Riley kicked far enough for a triple. Riley then dropped Bryan's infield popup with the runner holding. Phil Petras slapped one between short and second to plate the first run and Kincaid followed with his second single of the night to bring in Bryan with Petras being cut down at the plate.

After Rouse singled to advance the runner, McGowen brought home Kincaid with a one-bagger with Rouse being thrown out at third. Don Stewart fanned to end the inning.

The Sports picked up their other run in the next frame. McMullen led off with a single and went to third when catcher Bill Boyer threw wide to second on a steal. O'Conner struck out but Mock hit a fielder's choice to second and McMullen beat the throw to the plate.

The Sports play at Ruston tonight at 7:30 with an exhibition contest against the Big Eight Ramblers, go to Oak Grove Sunday for a La-Ark game and then meet Ruston again Monday night.

Mizell Hurls Cardinals By Giants, 4-2

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Wilmer Mizell of St. Louis, won his sixth straight game Friday night, defeating San Francisco 4-2 aided by home runs by Joe Cunningham and Hal Smith and Lindy McDaniels' relief help.

Three dazzling outfield catches by Bill White, Curt Flood and Bobby Gene Smith gave old Vinegar Bend brilliant support. Those blows would have been homers or for extra bases. All came with men on.

Mizell had a four-hitter going into the ninth, but was yanked after Jackie Brandt doubled and Daryl Spencer singled. Andre Rodgers singled off McDaniel, scoring the second Giant run.

Lindy then struck out pinch hitter Bob Speake and got pinch hitter Willie Kirkland to hit into a doubleplay.

The defeat put the Giants three games back of league-leading Milwaukee. It was only the second time in nine games this year that the Giants have lost to the Cards.

Mizell's only loss was his first game, April 12, to the Giants.

Cunningham's seventh inning homer, his second, broke up a scoreless duel between Mizell and Jack Sanford, who gave up nine hits in seven innings and took his fifth loss against six victories.

The Cards got three more hits off Gordon Jones, none off Al Worthingtin.

Smith's two-run homer came in the eighth. That one was off Jones.

Mizell ran into trouble for the first time in the eighth when the Giants scored on Bob Schmidt's single, a walk to Felipe Alou and Willie Mays' double.

Cubs Defeat Dodgers, Gain Third Place

LOS ANGELES (AP)—The Chicago Cubs shot into third place with a flourish Friday night, scoring eight runs in a wild fourth inning as they mortified the Los Angeles Dodgers, 9-4. The Dodgers committed five errors and the Cubs two.

Chicago sent 12 men to bat in the big inning and half of them got hits. Three Dodgers — Bob Lillis, Danny McDevitt and Ron Fairly — made errors in the inning, and six of the eight runs were unearned.

Lillis committed two other bungles in the game and drew a loud ovation in the fifth when he finally handled a ball cleanly.

George Altman was charged with an error that resulted in an unearned Los Angeles run. Al Dark of the Cubs made a harmless error.

The victory moved Chicago ahead of both Los Angeles and Pittsburgh. The Pirates were beaten 8-5 by Cincinnati.

Before the game, the Dodgers had not committed more than two errors in any game and were leading the league in fielding with a .984 mark.

The fourth inning was Chicago's biggest of the year. The Cubs had scored seven times in one inning twice before. Five hitters — Altman, Walt Moryn, Earl Averill, Dark and Ernie Banks got singles in the big rally. Bobby Thomson added a double. Banks scored twice in the inning.

Left - hander Danny Mcdevitt, yanked during the fourth, was charged with the defeat, and now is 3-4. He allowed six runs, four unearned.

Moe Drabowsky, who lasted 5 1-3 innings for Chicago, won his third against four losses. He gave up nine hits and four runs, one unearned.

Averill hit the game's only home run with the bases empty in the fifth. It was his fourth this season.

The Dodgers outhit the Cubs 10-0.

British Finalists To Leave For Home Quickly

SANDWICH, Eng. (AP) — Both Bill Hyndman of Abington, Pa., and Deane Beman of Silver Spring, Md., finalists Saturday in the British Amateur golf tourney, will leave for home shortly after the last putt drops in their 36-hole match.

Each hopes to qualify Monday for the U.S. Open. Hyndman will play the 36-hole test at Baltusrol Country Club, Short Hills, N.J., while Beman plays in the Washington, D.C., district.

Parade To Open Recreation Week

Mayor W. L. "Jack" Howard yesterday proclaimed May 30 through June 6 as "Recreation Week" in Monroe and a parade of more than 2,000 baseball and softball players through the downtown section of the city this afternoon will open observance of the week.

The parade, to include Little, Dixie, Minor, Teener, American Legion and softball league teams and at least one band, will begin at 3 o'clock this afternoon.

Recreation Department director Jack Hesketh said the paraders will assemble at the Central Grammar School grounds at 2:30 and step off on the parade at 3, marching west to South Grand, north to DeSiard, down DeSiard street east to Hall, south to Harrison and then disbanding.

Mayor Howard's proclamation says in part . . . "Whereas the Recreation Board of the City of Monroe is at present maintaining a wide variety of recreational facilities available for the use of the adults and youth of our city, and . . . Whereas the Commission Council of the City of Monroe desires to make an appropriate observation of the importance of recreation in the lives of its citizens and of the many recreational facilities, both natural and man-made, in our community . . . I hereby designate and proclaim May 30 through June 6, 1959, as Recreation Week in the City of Monroe."

One of the highlights of the week will be the formal dedication of the W. L. Bendel Memorial Stadium next Tuesday, June 2. The park, built as a memorial to the late Dr. Bendel, a long-time supporter of athletics in Monroe, was erected through contributions from the public.

MEETS OLDER HORSES

Sword Dancer In Metro Handicap

NEW YORK (AP) — Sword Dancer, the handsome chestnut colt who was runner-up in the Kentucky Derby, Preakness and Florida Derby, will take on older horses Saturday in the $100,000-added Metropolitan Handicap at Belmont Park.

Twelve were entered for the 66th running of the famous one mile spin. Sword Dancer is the only 3-year-old in the lot. He is owned by the Brookmeade Stable of Isabel Dodge Sloane and runs as an entry with Oligarchy.

In the last 35 years, only two 3-year-olds have won the met, the last being Greek Ship, also owned by Mrs. Sloane, in 1950.

The Claiborne Farm's Nadir and the Howell E. Jackson entry of Tick Tock and Four Fathoms loom as the chief opposition to the Brookmeade entry, a slight early favorite at 2-1. Nadir and the Jackson pair are 5-2.

Tick Tock has top weight of 122 pounds. He is to be ridden by Bobby Ussery, who won the recent Toboggan Handicap with the 6-year-old galloper. Nadir, a 4-year-old, has 121 and will have the services of Eddie Arcaro who grabs a helicopter right after the race and goes to Garden State Park to ride Claiborne's Dunce in the Jersey Stakes.

Sword Dancer, with 114, actually is one pound over scale for 3-year-olds in May. The scale calls for older horses to carry 127. Oligarchy, the 1958 Widener winner, has 113.

Others entered were Alf Vanderbilt's Village Idiot, 110; the Jopa Stable's Another Art, 102; Mrs. Ada L. Rice's Talent Show, 115; Edward Potter Jr.'s Plion, 108; C. Mahlon Kline's Mystic 2nd, 110; Georgiana Foster's Viscount, 108; and Myron N. Goodwin's Jimmer, 112. Jimmer, Tick Tock and Nadir were 1-2-3 in the Carter May 20, with Tick Tock closing fast at the wire.

The race will be televised nationally by CBS from 3-3:30 p.m., EST, and if all 12 start the purse will gross $116,900, the winner netting $74,885.

Arcaro will be after his fourth Metropolitan. Last year Shoemaker rode Gallant Man (130) and beat Arcaro and Bold Ruler (135) in one of the fastest Metropolitans of all time, a 1:35 3-5 clocking. Only Jack High, in 1930, and Mid-afternoon, the 1956 winner, did better. Both stepped the Met mile in 1:35.

15 To Race In Balmoral Turf Handicap Today

CHICAGO (AP) — Fifteen horses, including a four-ply entry from Hasty House Farms, were named Friday for the $50,000 added Balmoral Turf Handicap at Washington Park Saturday.

Hasty House entered Troubador II, Jack Ketch, Ekaba and Mahan in the 1 1-16 mile Memorial Day grass feature. A crowd of 30,000 is expected.

The probable favorite is John Zitnik's Manassas, who carries top weight of 120 pounds. He will be ridden by Doug Dodson.

Also well-liked is Carlton H. Palmer's Tharp, a recent arrival from the East, carrying 118 pounds. His rider is P. J. Bailey.

Rain Forecast For Indianapolis '500'

INDIANAPOLIS (AP) — Warm and humid weather with scattered thunderstorms was forecast Friday night for Saturday's 500-mile auto race, but the Weather Bureau said there was an even chance the rain would hold off till the race ends.

ON NARAGON'S SINGLE

Nats Edge Bosox In Ninth, 7 To 6

WASHINGTON (AP)—Hal Naragon's bases-loaded single in the the ninth inning gave Washington a 7-6 victory over Boston Friday before a Griffith Stadium crowd of 3,030 which included President Eisenhower.

Pedro Ramos was credited with the victory although his first contribuiton as a relief pitcher in the top half of the ninth was to serve up a three-run homer to Jackie Jensen, enabling the Red Sox to tie the score 6-6.

Harm Killebrew drew a leadoff walk. After Bob Allison's sacrifice bunt. Wall walked Julio Becquer purposely, and passed Faye Throneberry unintentionally to fill the bases. With a 1-1 count, Naragon, who came to Washington from Cleveland four days ago in a trade for Ed FitzGerald, socked a long fly to right center. Jensen couldn't catch up with it and Killebrew trotted home with the winning run.

For the Senators, losers in 14 of 17 night games, this was victory No. 18 in 27 afternoon contests. The victory boosted the Senators back into fourth place ahead of idle Kansas City, .477 to .474.

Before the dramatic finish, 22-year-old Killebrew had provided the President with his big moments. Just prior to gametime, the President was introduced to the major league's home run leader and said: "I'm pleased to meet my grandson's (David Eisenhower) greatest hero."

Killebrew singled, hit his 17th homer besides scoring the winning run.

Bill Fischer pitched the first seven innings for Washington and bequeathed a 6-2 lead to his relievers. Manager Cookie Lavagetto lifted him because of the oppressive 86-degree heat.

The Red Sox pecked away at Truman Clevenger and Dick Hyde for a run in the eighth, singled home by Pete Daley. Off Hyde in the ninth, Pete Runnels doubled for his fourth hit and Ted Williams walked. After Chuck Stobbs came out of the bullpen to retire Vic Wertz, the right-handed Ramos was called upon to face the right-handed batting Jensen. Jensen tied it with his homer into the left field seats.

Faye Throneberry helped Killebrew pile up the early Washington lead. The red hot Throneberry drove in three runs with two singles and a sacrifice fly. He raised his RBI total for the last six games to 10.

Valdes Drops Decision To Al Johnson

NEW YORK (AP) — Alonzo Johnson, a hungry newcomer from Braddock, Pa., crashed the big time Friday night by winning an unanimous decision over high-ranked Nino Valdes of Cuba in a 10-rounder at Madison Square Garden.

Johnson, only 24, kept on top of his hulking opponent. Although he absorbed body punishment from the 34-year-old Cuban he had piled up points with his quick flurries.

From time to time Johnson scored with a long right lead followed by a rocking hook. They finished the last round with a flurry that drew cheers from the crowd.

All three officials had Johnson, a former AAU champ, way out front. Judge Nick Gamboli scored it 8-1-1 and both Judge Tony Castellano and Referee Al Berl scored it 6-3-1 for Johnson. The AP card was 8-1-1 Johnson.

There were no knockdowns nor anything close to it. Valdes started to connect with body blows in the third but Johnson's quick hands soon regained the initiative. The action slowed in the middle rounds but they closed strong.

It was Johnson's 12th straight victory and his 16th in 17 pro starts. His only defeat came in a six-rounder in 1957 at the hands of Cortez Stewart.

Valdes, trained to much better condition than the March night when he was stopped by Charley Powell, wasn't quick enough to take advantage of the openings. He let the lighter Johnson push him around inside and tie him up.

Big Nino, crowned "pro champ" by his manager Bobby Gleason in midwinter, now has a 48-17-2 record to show for 67 fights. He was rated No. 6 among the challengers for heavyweight champion Floyd Patterson by Ring Magazine and No. 8 by the National Boxing Assn.

Valdes had been a 2-1 favorite but they went into the ring at even money.

About 2,200 fans paid a gross gate of $12,000 to see the nationally televised all - heavyweight show.

Waller Eager To Continue Gridiron Career

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Football star Ron Waller said Friday he is ready and eager to continue playing for the Los Angeles Rams.

There have been reports, which Ram Coach Sid Gillman declined to confirm, that the former University of Maryland idol does not figure in plans for the team this year.

Waller has been out of action or hampered the past two season due to a knee injury. Recently he underwent surgery but Friday he said:

"I feel great. I played three sets of tennis this morning and have been strengthening my knee with weight exercises.

"Of course I want to play for the Rams, but only if they want me."

Berry Named Arcadia High Head Coach

ARCADIA, La. (Special) — James E. "Jimmy" Berry, a former standout football player at Ouachita Parish High and Northeast State College in Monroe, has been named head coach at Arcadia High School, principal Earl R. Hester announced yesterday.

Berry will replace Harold Tinsley who has served as head coach for the past twelve years. Tinsley will remain on the faculty as a mathematics teacher.

A native of West Monroe, Berry was a three-year letterman at guard and tackle for Ouachita, where he graduated in 1953. He graduated from Northeast State in 1957 after four varsity seasons.

Berry has been assistant coach at Jena for the last two years. Married and the father of two children, he is expected to move to Arcadia shortly.

Navy Tackle Fails To Get Physical OK

ANNAPOLIS, Md. (AP)—Naval Academy officials announced Friday that football star Bob Reifsnyder, fourth draft choice of the professional Los Angeles rams, is "not physically qualified" to be commissioned in the armed forces.

That means the 240-pound tackle from Rockville Centre, N. Y., will have no service obligation after graduation next Wednesday.

It was reported the Rams have been in contact with Reifsnyder recently and will fly him to the coast after graduation for an examination by their doctors.

Reifsnyder, who sat out most of last season with an injury, will receive a diploma with some 800 other academy graduates, but he will be one of 11 not commissioned for physical reasons. Those commissioned have a service obligation of at least four years.

The biggest and one of the most colorful linemen in Navy history, Reifsnyder drew raves for his spectacular tackling and ball-hawking as a sophomore substitute.

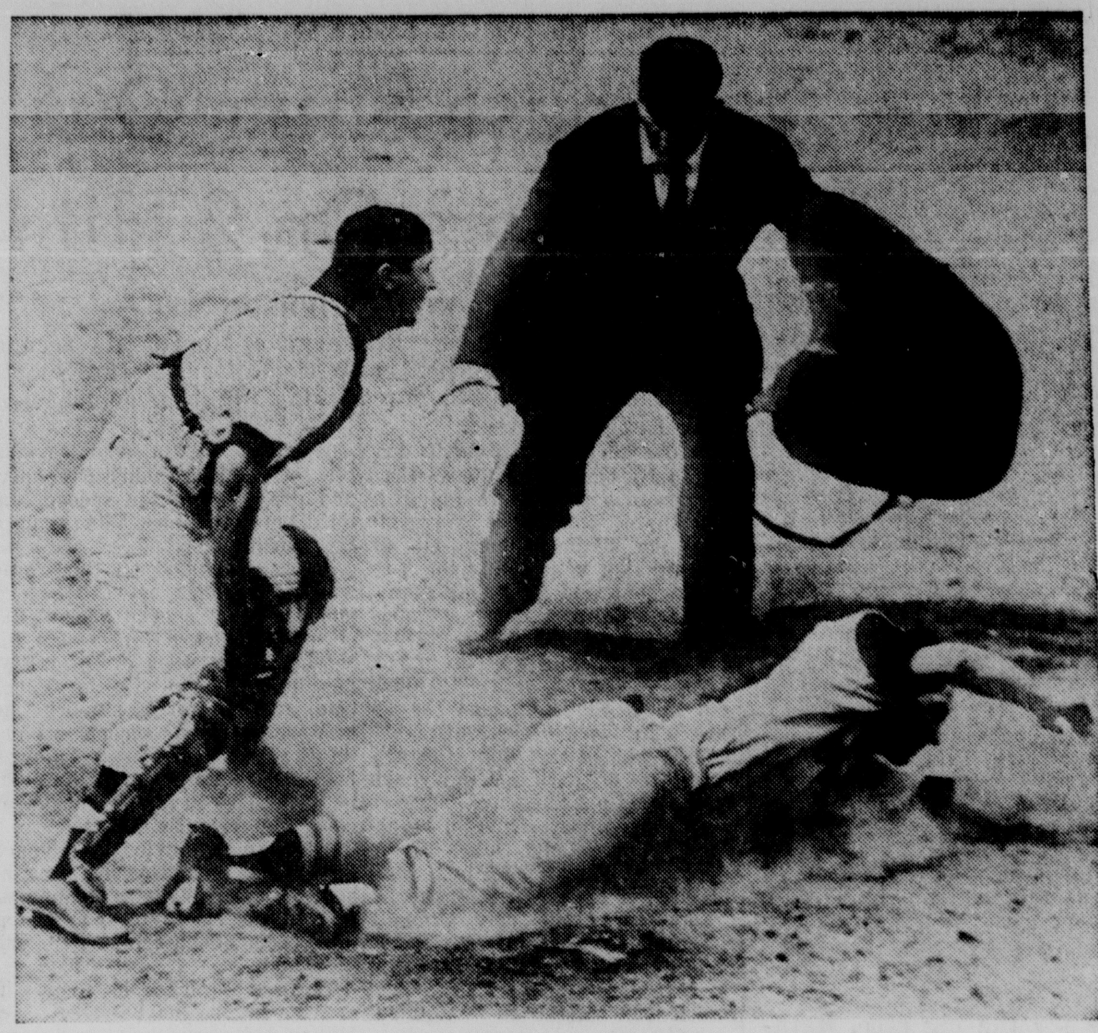
He improved as a junior but made only token appearances last season because of an injured heel. Treatment by specialists and special braces failed to help the inflamed "achilles tendon."

Australian Duo, Italians Reach Doubles Final

PARIS (AP)—Australia's likely Davis Cup team of Neale Fraser and Roy Emerson and Italy's veteran combination of Nicola Pietrangeli and Orlando Sirola gained the doubles final of the French Tennis Championships.

The Australians routed the French pair of Robert Haillet and Pierre Darmon, 6-3, 6-1, 6-3.

The Italians had a lot more difficulty in overcoming the young Aussie team of Rod Laver and Bob Mark, 2-6, 6-4, 1-6, 6-3, 6-2.



The Home Stretch

Bob Goalby Holds Lead In Kentucky Derby Open

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — Bob Goalby's putter cooled off Friday, but his game was still good enough for a 3-under-par 68 as he continued to lead the field in the Kentucky Derby Open Golf tournament.

The big Belleville, Ill., professional, who plays out of Crystal River, Fla., had a 132 total at the halfway mark in the 72-hole $20,000 tournament.

It was 10, under par for Seneca golf course's hilly 6,462 yard, par 71 layout.

Goalby's Derby Open record of 64, set Thursday, was tied Friday by Memphis Open winner Don Whitt of Borrego Springs, Calif. Whitt's total of 134 put him in second place, two strokes ahead of Thursday's runner-up, Ernie Vossler.

Vossler, of Midland, Tex., shot a 70 for a 136 total.

John McMullin, Fair Oaks, Calif., was fourth at 137 on rounds of 71-66. Tied for fifth at 138 were Johnny Pott of Shreveport, La., and Jim Ferree of Crystal River, Fla. Both fired second round 68s.

While Whitt continued to play sparkling golf — it was his second 64 in a week — goalby was still the talk of the tournament. The handsome 28-year-old, playing his second year in big-time golf, took 33 putts to negotiate the second round, after needing only 24 on the first 18.

Goalby said his game was not as sharp as his second round, but said he was particularly well satisfied with his tee shots.

He had three birdies on the front nine and two on the back, while picking up one bogey on each. Goalby three-putted the first hole for one bogey and three-putted again on No. 12.

Whitt shot himself into contention with a 5-under-par 31 on the first nine. He then shot the back nine in 33, three under.

"I was really happy with my iron game," Whitt said. he pointed out that all eight of his birdies were made on putts of 10 feet or less. He had nine pars and one bogey on the 15th hole, where he made a bad tee shot.

SPINS FIVE-HITTER

Mossi Pitches 4-1 Win Over Chisox

CHICAGO (AP)—Southpaw Don Mossi limited the Chicago White Sox to five hits Friday while Al Kaline and Lou Berberet cushioned him with fourth-inning solo homers for a 4-1 Detroit Tiger triumph.

Kaline lofted his No. 10 home run 425 feet into the center field bull pen. Berbert shot his sixth into the right field stands.

The two runs were all Mossi needed in running his record to 3-2. But Detroit added two more runs in the eighth in stretching out a four-game winning streak and 16 victories in 23 starts since Jimmy Dykes became manager.

Mossi yielded three hits in the first two innings. They included a throw-beating single by Luis Aparicio in the first, extending his hitting streak through 14 games, a double by Al Smith in the second and a beat-out bunt by Bubba Phillips that scored Smith from third. He made third when Earl Torgeson was thrown out at first.

After that Mossi faced only 20 batters, holding the Sox hitless in the next six innings. He was nicked for a single and double in the ninth, but got Phillips to fly out, retiring the side with the runners stranded.

The Tigers combined singles by Eddie Yost and Harvey Kuenn, a double by Kaline, his third hit of the game, and left fielder Del Ennis' bad throw to third for an error to produce two runs in the eighth.

Pole Vault To Be Feature Of Calif. Relays

MODESTO, Calif. (UPI) — The annual California Relays, last stop on the Western relays tour this spring, take the stage Saturday night with the pole vault slated as the center attraction.

Nine men who have cleared 15 feet or better, including world record holder Bob Gutowski, are scheduled in the jumping pit competition in which should be one of the better vaulting exhibitions in history.

Top-notch athletes from all over the country will be competing—but a late withdrawal was Dallas Long, the 19-year-old phenomen of the shot-put. The young USC student suffered another attack of the flu and on advice of his coach and doctor had to cancel his appearance.

However, there is plenty of action scheduled in the shot anyway, because Parry O'Brien and Bill Neider will be here--set on putting the mark out of Long's reach. O'Brien currently is the recognized world record holder.

A fine field shapes up in the 100 yard dash, where Bobby Morton of Abilene, Tex., and Ray Norton of San Jose, Calif., renew their feud—and their joint crack at a new world mark. They are coholders, with others, of the world mark of 9.3.

Another crack group is slated to compete in the hurdles, with Josh Culbreath, Willie Atterbury, Dick Howard and a young California high school sensation named Dixon Farmer, slated for action.

Ray To Know Fate In New York Tuesday

NEW YORK (AP)—Sugar Ray Robinson will know Tuesday whether he still will be recognized in New York as world middleweight champion.

The state athletic commission said Friday it would announce a decision in the Robinson case Tuesday morning.

The commission last Wednesday concluded a long series of hearings to determine whether the 39-year-old Harlem fighter has obeyed a commission and state court directive to sign for a title defense against Carmen Basilio.

Robinson testified he signed for a defense against Basilio in Philadelphia, Sept. 21 and that Basilio had been offered $225,000 to meet him. Basilio, however, has not signed.

Robinson was stripped of his title by the National Boxing Assn. last May 4 for failing to defend his crown in accordance with the six months defense rule. Robinson last fought on March 25, 1958 Basilio.

Hyndman Bests Magee On 38th Hole To Reach Final

By STERLING SLAPPEY

SANDWICH, Eng. (AP) — Bill Hyndman III won on the 38th hole Friday in one of golf's most thrilling matches to join Deane Beman in Saturday's all-American final for the British Amateur Championship.

Hyndman, an Abington, Pa., socialite, defeated Lt. Bob Magee, joking, cigar - chomping U.S. Army officer, in an historic match which lasted 7 hours and 8 minutes.

Magee sank a 45-foot curling putt on the 36th green to tie the contest only to lose when he flubbed his second shot on the second extra hole.

Beman, a Maryland college boy, crushed Guy Wolstenholme, the English champion, 5 and 4. The youthful Yank was 3-under-par for the afternoon round, although playing with a strained shoulder which he feared might force him to default.

Thus the two U.S. Walker Cup teammates—Hyndman is 43 and Beman 21 — will clash over the Royal St. George's Course Saturday in the fifth all-American final since World War II. They are scheduled for 36 holes.

Beman, from Silver Spring, Md., already had broken Wolstenholme's resistance when Hyndman and Magee came down to the wire in their bitter struggle.

In the fluctuating match, Hyndman led 1-up at the end of the morning round but Magee, putting and chipping magnificently, moved ahead by one hole at the 27-hole mark.

Then Hyndman, getting his second wind, won the 31st, 32nd and 33rd holes in succession, putting him 2-up with three holes to play.

Magee, a Germany-based tank expert from Newton, Mass., wasn't beaten yet. He rolled in a 30-footer at the 34th hole to cut Hyndman's lead to a single hole, halved the 35th and then moved to the 36th where he seemed hopelessly beaten.

Hyndman was on the green for an easy par 4. Magee was 45 feet away, needing the putt to win the hole and stave off defeat. The lieutenant stroked the ball firmly. It curled toward the cup, dropping on what seemed like its final roll. A crowd of 1,500 cheered wildly.

The 37th was halved in par 4s. At the 38th, Magee hit two inches behind the ball on his approach from the fairway and moved the ball only a few yards. He had to settle for a 5 while Hyndman knocked in a par 4 for the match.

"I've never seen anyone putt and chip like Magee," Hyndman said afterwards. "He put them in from everywhere. He broke my heart."

Beman and Solstenholme, a 28-year-old woolen executive and British Walker Cupper, were all-square at the end of the morning round. But Beman won the first three holes of the afternoon and assumed an advantage he never lost.

Wolstenholme mustered a brief rally. He holed out a 20-yard chip shot on the 23rd to cut Beman's lead to two holes and then he holed out from off the green on the 25th. But at the 25th Beman knocked in a 12-foot putt right behind him to get a half.

"I thought it was the most important shot of the day for me," Beman said afterwards.

The Maryland youngster sank a 20-foot putt on the 27th and closed out the match with a birdie 4 on the long 32nd. He hurt his shoulder Thursday and for a while thought he might be forced to quit. He said it loosened up in the sun Friday.

When the big day was over Magee told Hyndman, "Come on, Bill, you owe me a beer."

"It's just as well I lost anyway," Magee said, "I got thrown out of my hotel room this morning. My seven-day reservation had run out. They said they couldn't extend it—no matter if I won or lost. They just didn't have the room.

"Another thing—I've run out of cigars. I've smoked 150 this week and I can't afford these dollar English cigars."

10 To Compete For Prize In Jersey Stakes

CAMDEN, N.J. (AP)—A field of ten 3-year-olds, headed by Emil Dolce's Manassa Mauler, has been named for Saturday's final running of the $50,000 added Jersey Stakes at Garden State Park.

Gene Mori, president of Garden State, announced earlier this week that the Jersey Stakes, a feature of the spring meeting here since the track opened in 1942, would be replaced next year by the $100,000 Jersey Derby.

A highlight in the mile and an eighth race is an effort by jockey Eddie Arcaro to ride in two major races in a single afternoon. Arcaro, America's premier jockey, is slated to handle Claiborne Farm's Nadir in the $100,000 added Metropolitan Handicap at Belmont Park, off at 4:15, EDT.

Immediately after the Metropolitan, Arcaro, with the approval of stewards at both tracks, will board a helicopter in the Belmont Park infield, and fly approximately 90 miles to the infield at Garden State. He then hopes to mount Claiborne's Dunce for the Jersey Stakes — off at 5:45, EDT. He won't even bother to change silks.

Claiborne trainer Moody Jolley will have an alternate jockey ready in the event Arcaro is delayed in the one hour and 10-minute trip. Jolley wasn't sure who the ghost rider would be.

Manassa Mauler, winner of the Wood and runner-up in the Withers, both in New York, is slated to give away 8 to 15 pounds to his eight rivals in the Jersey. Jockey Ray Broussard has the assignment aboard the stretch running 3-year-old claimed by his owner for $12,500 at Jamaica in 1958. The colt recently turned the 3-year-old division topsy turvy in the Wood by whipping good rivals, including First Landing. He was second to Intentionally in the Withers.

VIRGINIA INVITATIONAL

Beverly Hanson Leads By Stroke

VIRGINIA BEACH, Va. (AP)—Slim Beverly Hanson shot a 2-under-par 67 over the Cavalier Course here Friday to stake out a one-stroke lead at the end of the first round of the 54-hole, $6,000 Virginia Beach Invitational Golf Tournament.

The Indio, Calif., shotmaker—top money-winner of ladies' professional golf in 1958—shaved two strokes off par on the front nine with an outgoing 33, but cooled off coming home. She missed three of the last four greens and scrambled to an incoming 34, even par.

Bonnie Randolph of Naples, Fla., finished the opening 18 right behind Miss Hanson with 34-34—68.

Mickey Wright of Bonita, Calif., trailed the two leaders with 34-36—70 for the 6,065-yard layout. Tied at 71 were Betty Dodd, the long-driving ace from San Antonio, Tex., and Kathy Cornelius of Lakeland, Fla. Miss Dodd had 35-36 despite the fact she needed four putts on the first hole and carded a double bogey on the 18th.

Miss Hanson birdied three holes on the front nine—the fourth, the sixth and the ninth—and was one over par on No. 3.

The day's most luckless golfer was Wiffi Smith of St. Clair, Mich., who finished with 43-36—79 after being penalized four strokes—two 'or movnig her ball on the third hole, two more for signing an incorrect scorecard.

The tournament continues Saturday with another 18-hole round and ends with a final round on Sunday. First prize is $1,000.

The leaders:

Machen Suit Slated For Court Monday

NEW YORK (AP)—Eddie Machen's suit to prevent Sweden's Ingemar Johansson from fighting world heavyweight champion Floyd Patterson will go to trial in Federal Court Monday.

Judge Irving R. Kaufman made the ruling Friday after holding a one-hour pre-trial meeting with the parties involved. The jurist had hoped to arrange a compromise.

Johansson and his attorney, Justin Golenbock, and Machen's manager, Sid Flaherty, and attorney, Jack Hart, met in the judge's chambers.

Machen, of Redding, Calif., was knocked out in the first round by Johansson at Goteborg, Sweden, last Sept. 14. That victory made Johansson the No. 1 contender and enabled him to get the title shot.

Machen and Flaherty claim that Johansson agreed to a return bout and that the Swede had agreed not to fight anyone before meeting Machen again.

Johansson said he did not sign any return bout contract. He said that was done by Edwin Ahlquist, his advisor.

Ahlquist, who promoted the Machen-Johansson fight, said he is not Johansson's manager and said further that he signed a contract for a return bout "under duress."

Odd Play At Yankee Stadium

Gil McDougald of the New York Yankees is tagged out at the plate by Baltimore Oriole's catcher Mike Ginsberg in a seventh inning attempted steal from third at Yankee Stadium yesterday. Elston Howard was being given an intentional base on balls and as the fourth pitch was thrown, McDougald broke for home in vain, making the third out of the frame. The Umpire did not signal a ball until later. It was scored as a walk for Howard. (AP Wirephoto)

SKOWRON DRIVES IN THREE

Ford Survives Shaky Start To Set Down Baltimore, 5-2

NEW YORK (AP) — Whitey Ford survived a shaky start and went all the way to whip Baltimore in 84-degree temperatures, 5-2 Friday. Bill Skowron drove in three of the New York Yankee runs with a single and a sacrifice fly.

Ernie Johnson, former Milwaukee relief pitcher, made his first major league start since May 19, 1955, but lasted only one inning before he was removed for a pinch hitter. Billy O'Dell, who took over, was the loser.

The Yanks broke through O'Dell for two in the fifth on Skowron's two-run single after two walks, a sacrifice and a passed ball by Joe Ginsberg. Ford's double and singles by Tony Kubek and Mickey Mantle added another run in the sixth.

Gil McDougald tripled with two out in the seventh and was out trying to steal home under most unusual circumstances. McDougald went for the plate on the fourth intentional wide pitch to pinch hitter Elston Howard. Although plate Umpire Ed Rommel did not signal a ball at the time, it was scored as a walk for Howard. The next batter, Ford, led off the eighth inning.

Lopez, recently acquired from Kansas City, played third in place of Andy Carey as Manager Casey Stengel shook up his line-up after Thursday night's shutout by Hoyt Wilhelm. Marv Throneberry replaced Hank Bauer in right and Berra caught instead of Howard. Lopez had two hits in his first game as a Yankee.

Champ Drops Sparring Mate In Workout

CHATHAM, N. J. (AP)—Heavyweight champion Floyd Patterson dropped one of his sparring partners again Friday as he went through another strenuous workout in muggy weather.

Billy Tisdale, who was floored by a right to the jaw Thursday, went down from a thumping left hook to the ribs. This happened in second round with the champ.

Tisdale, a 5-10, 190-pounder from Bridgeport, Conn., fell to one knee and then slumped to the canvas. Handlers walked him around a bit and he later finished the round.

Patterson slugged it out with husky Solomon McTier of Montgomery, Ala., in the last two rounds of his drills. McTier, a 202-pounder, connected with both hands to Patterson's head but took plenty in return.

Southern Assn. To Consider Split Season

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — The Southern Assn. will hold a special meeting in Birmingham, Ala., next Monday to consider the possibility of a split season, league president Charlie Hurth announced Friday.

The last time the Southern played a split season was in 1943 and 1944.

Will Rogers Stakes Heads Park Program

INGLEWOOD, Calif. (AP)—The $25,000 added Will Rogers Stakes for 3-year-old colts and geldings headlines the traditional Memorial Day program at Hollywood Park Saturday.

The mile feature is the second of three major tests for the sophomore division prior to the $100,000-added Hollywood Derby June 27.

A field of seven was entered, topped by the entry of Finnegan and Ole Fols from the Neil S. McCarthy stable. Others include Civic Pride, Kingdom, Tramore II, Friar Roach and Linmold.

Keller Rejoins Yanks As First Base Coach

NEW YORK (AP)—Charlie Keller, former outfielder and coach of the New York Yankees, agreed to rejoin the club Friday as first base coach on a temporary basis. He replaces Ralph Houk who is hospitalized with multiple fractures of the right cheek after being hit with a line drive in batting practice Tuesday night.

Houk was successfully operated on Friday. His right cheekbone, which was broken in many places, and depressed, was lifted into normal position. He will be hospitalized for between a week and 10 days.

ADCOCK IN SPOILER'S ROLE

Braves Push Across Run In Ninth To Beat Phils, 6-5

MILWAUKEE (AP) — Joe Adcock spoiled an intentional pass and drove home Henry Aaron who had tripled to break a tie in the ninth inning to give the Milwaukee Braves a 6-5 victory Friday night over the Philadelphia Phillies.

Adcock swinging at a wide pitch hit a bounder to second baseman George Anderson whose throw to the plate was too late to catch Aaron as he slid across with the winning run.

Gene Conley, lanky Phillie right-hander and a former Milwaukee hurler who had blanked the Braves 6-0 on six hits in his last start against them, was the loser after giving up 13 hits, one a home run by Adcock that scored two runs.

Aaron who had only one hit in his previous 13 times at bat, had a single, a double and the triple to raise his average five points to .432.

The league-leading Braves used three pitchers against the Phillie. Don McMahon, who pitched the last two got credit for his second victory without a defeat.

The Phillies got two unearned runs in the first inning on a walk, an error and a single. Richie Ashburn walked to open the game. A grounder by Chico Fernandez went through Johnny Logan's leg, Ashburn going to third and Fernandez to second. Ed Bouchee popped out but Wally Post singled to left, scoring Ashburn and Fernandez.

The Braves took a 4-2 lead in the second inning when they got to Conley for five hits and four runs.

Wes Covington singled and Joe Adcock hit his fourth home run of the year to score the first two Brave runs. Joe Crandall and Johnny O'Brien singled and Billy Bruton walked. Eddie Mathews then sent a sharp single to right that scored Crandall and O'Brien.

Philadelphia tied the count in the top of the third on a two-run homer by Bouchee. When Carlton Willey hit Post on the elbow and Harry Anderson doubled, Juan Pizarro took the mound for the Braves and put out the fire.

Louisiana Golf Association Names Aillet

RUSTON, La. (Special) —Joe Aillet, Louisiana Tech athletic director, has been appointed to the board of directors of the Louisiana State Amateur Golf association.

His appointment to the board was announced by John Waters of Alexandria, past president of the association.

Aillet is a member of the Ruston country club and the state amateur association. He is also a member of the board of the Louisiana State Senior Golf Association.

He is also coach of the Tech golf team which won eight of nine matches and finished second in the GSC tourney this past season.

Itobe Takes Easy Victory In Wilmington

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Brookfield Farms won the Wilmington Handicap, annual opening day feature at Delaware Park, for the fourth time as Itobe galloped to an easy triumph in the 6-furlong event Friday.

A crowd of 12,665 turned out on a humid, showery day for the start of Delaware's 50-day meeting. It was a record weekday opening crowd, bettering the 12,148 in 1956.

Jockey Sam Boulmetis guided Itobe to his second straight victory and third in five starts this year in 1:10 2-5 over a fast track.

Itobe earned $9,200 of the gross $12,925 purse, and paid $4.40, $3.20 and $2.60.

Boulmetis and Itobe romped home 2½ lengths ahead of Sydney I. Crew's Cuvier Boy, ridden by Joe Culmone. Carolina Joy was third.

The 5-year-old daughter of Sun Again - Rissa, ridden by Eric Guerin, scampered the 6 furlongs in 1:11 2-5 and won by nine lengths over Edward M. O'Brien's Spar Maid, the 2-1 favorite. Third was North Hill Farm's Any Morn.

Sandys Joy paid $9.10.

F. Eugene Dixon Jr.'s My Last Try, ridden hard by Jim Hobales, smashed the track record for two miles and a furlong over 12 jumps in taking the War Battle Steeplechase Handicap. The clocking of 3:54 2-5 wiped out Basil Bee's Mark of 4:03 1-5 set last Oct. 7.

The consistent 4-year-old son of Graphic ran the 6 furlongs in 1:11 2-5 and paid $10.80.

Crafty Belle was second and Quiz Briar third.

I'm Willing paid $3.00.

The largest win payoff of the meeting came in the third race when River Divide Farm's Greek Guard, with Dick Lawless up, won at the boxcar odds of $130.60.

Abbie Belle, the $4.20 favorite, raced to a 3½ length victory in the $10,000 Busher Purse in Washington Park.

St. Paschal's, Temple and College Place earned victories in the Church "A" League and Victory took a forfeit from First Baptist last night.

Angelo Danna pitched and batted St. Paschal's to a 14-4 verdict over First Christian. Danna had 2-3 and Bobby Bryant clouted a home run and two triples. Roper paced First Christian with a three bagger.

Foust twirled a six-hitter as Temple set down Trinity, 5-4. Walker gave up only two hits but was hampered by wildness. Sonny Steen had two hits for Trinity and none of the winners had more than a single base hit.

A two-hitter by Bob Bushnell sparked College Place to a 7-2 win over Calvary. Palmer and Murdock collected two hits apiece for the College team. Hart and Foust worked for the losers.

Claiborne edged First Methodist, 10-9, and Emmanuel whipped McClendon, 6-2, in the Church "B" circuit last night. Brown got 4-4 to pace Claiborne while Parker was First Methodist's top hitter with 2-4. Travis won over Abrough on the mound.

Bowen, Abbott and McBeth got two hits each to spark Emmanuel with the last two clubbing home runs. McBeth was the winning pitcher over J. T. Gilmore. Granford got 3-3 to lead the losers at the plate.

Oldest Mark Tied In IC4A Track Trials

NEW YORK (AP)—The oldest and record in the books was matched and the youngest bettered Friday as Penn State's Nittany Lions tossed their track and field might around Randall's Island in the trials of the 83rd IC4A meet.

Dick Edmunds, Princeton sophomore from Glen Falls, N.Y., ran 440 yards in 47 seconds flat in equalling the meet's 27-year-old record hung up by Bill Carr, Penn's picture runner of the early 30s and matched three times by long John Woodruff of Pitt. Both Carr and Woodruff were Olympic champions.

Even then, Edmunds, whose best previous time was :47.4 as a freshman last year, came off the track complaining that his first 220 yards was too slow. He ran it in 21.8 as he trailed Pitt's Mel Barnwell. But the 165-pound, 5-11 blond caught the Pitt flyer in the final yards. Barnwell was clocked in :47.3.

The championship record fell before strong-man John Lawlor, former Dublin, Ireland, policeman from Boston University. The 230-pound junior who last week threw the 16-pound ball 208 feet 5½ inches in the New England Intercollegiates, lifted the IC4A hammer throw mark to 199 feet 5½. He won the same event last year with a record 198-8.

Penn State, favorite to take over the crown won the last two years by Villanova, sent 10 individuals and its mile relay team through Friday's 12 qualifying events. The 16 finals will be decided Saturday. Semifinals are still on the agenda for the 220-yard dash and 220-yard low hurdles before getting down to the championship runs.

Yale's sophomore-studded outfit was the inly team to offer the Nittany Lions any competition in the number of qualiifers. The Elis placed nine individuals and the mile relay team. Maryland qualified seven, and Boston Univ. and Villanova six each.

Mr. Saunders Wins Gotham Trot At Yonkers

YONKERS, N.Y. (AP) — Mr. Saunders, driven by Gene Riegle, kept his unbeaten string intact Friday night as he posted his fifth straight victory in the $43,500 Gotham Trot at Yonkers Raceway.

Time for the mile, the fatest of the year for trotters on a half-mile oval, was 2:02.

The handsome chestnut son of Florican, owned by the Three Way Stable of Greenville, Ohio, returned $9.40 after leading all the way and whipping favored Trader Horn by half a length.

Steamin' Demon finished third, followed by Sandalwood, Newport Star, Roch Colby, Annette Sue, Royal Rodney, Jessie Colby, Lumber Boy, Lumber Along, and Dailey Gallon.

Seven Killed In Japanese Plant Blast

IIDA, Japan (UPI)—Seven persons were killed and 13 injured seriously Friday in a fireworks factory explosion that rocked this city like a wartime blockbuster bomb.

Killed instantly was a sixth-grade school girl who was playing in the grounds of a nearby elementary school.

The explosion, which ripped the neighborhood in mid-afternoon, destroyed the factory, its storerooms and the house of the owner and damaged the nearby school.

Among the dead were the manager of the factory, his wife, and several workers. Only three of the workers were brought out alive and one of them died later.

Police said at least 200 persons suffered minor injuries and were being treated at several hospitals in Iida, a city on the main Japanese island of Honshu.

Cause of the explosion was attributed to mishandling of potassium chlorate, which workers were using to produce a special firework display for sale in the United States.

Longshoremen Posing Walkout

NEW ORLEANS (AP)—A longshoremens strike on the New Orleans waterfront was threatened Friday if the dock board does not rescind its wharf tollage increase.

Al Chittenden, president of Longshoremen's Local 1418, told the City Council that if the dispute is not settled in 10 days the longshoremen will throw up a picket line.

Labor leaders told the City Council at one of its series of hearings on the waterfront situation that unemployment on the docks is at its highest in 10 years.

WRIST WATCHES

A recent industry survey shows that 30 per cent of all wrist watches are purchased by men for themselves, 30 per cent are bought by men as gifts for others, 31 per cent are sold to women for gifts and only nine per cent are bought by women for their own use.

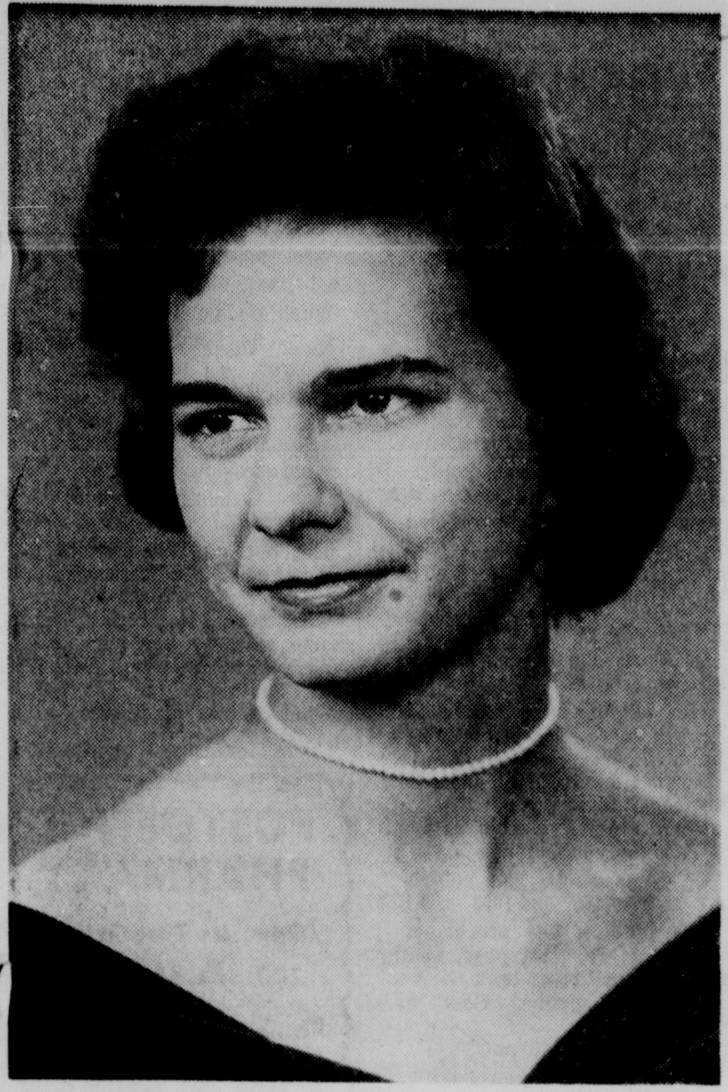
WOMAN'S WORLD



MISS ROSE YVONNE HIBBARD, daughter of Mrs. Ruby Hibbard of West Monroe is the bride-elect of Herbert L. Temple of Marshall Texas. The ceremony will occur on June 10th at the Ridge Avenue Baptist Church.

Miss Ticheli, Bride-Elect Honored With Parties

Mrs. Mona Gardner, Mrs. Antoinette Ticheli and Mrs. Dottie Sweet were the hostesses who honored the bride - elect, Mona Ticheli, with a miscellaneous shower on May 17.

For the occasion, the honoree wore a navy linen sheath accented with white. The hostesses presented her with a corsage of white carnations and an electric mixer as a gift. Mrs. Frank Ticheli, the mother of the bride - to - be, chose a beige linen sheath with white accessories for the occasion.

Of the many guests honoring the bride - to - be with their presence and lovely gifts were Mrs. Georgia Nastasi, Mrs. Ruth LaDart, Mrs. Eunice Hackworth, Mrs. Irene Semmes, Mrs. G. O. Redden, Mrs. Catherine Jacola, Mrs. Nelli Conti, Mrs. Frances Conti, Mrs. Frank Jungina, Mrs. Angelia Rizzo, Mrs. Vick Binangio, Mrs. Luke Conrad, Mrs. Rock Monaco, Mrs. Gene Bruscato, Miss Bea Bruscato, Miss Mary Spatafora, Mrs. Angie Embanato, Mrs. Rose Fury, Mrs. Mary Danna, Miss Joyce Danna, Mrs. Bernice Moore and Mrs. Marie Comrato.

On Sunday afternoon, the following guests attended a lingerie shower given the bride - elect, Mona Ticheli, by her sister, Mrs. Connie Jungina; Mrs. James Counts, Mrs. JoAnn Neal, Mrs. Mary Ann Richards, Mrs. Mary Louise Russo, Mrs. Libley Fontana, Mrs. Antoinette Ticheli, Miss Josephine Anzalone, Miss Salley Hayes, Mrs. Vaughn Gardner, Miss Antoinette Gardner, Mrs. Dollie Sweet, Mrs. Joyce Ross, Mrs. Frances Sampognaro, Mrs. Mary Danna, and Miss Joyce Danna.

YOUR PROBLEMS

Roving Lover Picks Fights On Purpose

By ANN LANDERS

Dear Ann: You'll probably think I'm a spineless jellyfish, but I don't know how to broach this subject with the young girl who rents a room in my home. Please help me.

We have one telephone in the house, and it's in the hall, opposite this girl's room. I have four children in their late teens and early 20's and they gt a good many phone calls. I have friends who call, too. Whenever the phone rings, day or night, the roomer rushes to answer it. It's very anoying because she frequently says "They're asleep," or "she's in the bath tub" or other rude remarks.

Isn't it poor manners for a roomer to answer the phone and speak for the family? How can I let her know in a nice way? — W.K.W.

Dear W.K.W.: It's strange how some people break their heads trying to figure out a round-about way of doing things when the direct approach would be far more effective. Just one sentence will do it. Sample: "I don't see why you should be bothered with phone calls for our family. We'll answer in the future and call you if it's for you."

Dear Ann: I'm a girl 18 and going steady with a boy 19. Although we've talked about marriage in the future I have the feeling he's not sincere.

It seems every three or four weeks we get into an argument and the next thing I know, he's dated a waitress or a chambermaid from the big hotel.

This has happened seven or eight times and I'm beginning to think he picks fights with me so he can have an excuse to step out. My mother says I should break up with him because he shows signs of being a "chaser". Is she right?—CLAIRE DA LOON

Dear Claire: Your mother makes a valid point. Listen to her. This boy friend doeen't want to be shackled by one girl. If he were content to be yours, exclusively, he'd go out with the fellows when you two had a spat, not the girls.

A sweetheart's quarrel should not be seized as an opportunity to be unfaithful. Break off the steady arrangement and give him every chance to exercise his roving eye.

(P.S. Some men NEVER get over it, honey.)

Dear Ann: My husband and I have been married 11 years. I have four children and I worked up to the last minute with all of them. We own a small cleaning establishment and I put in a full day at the shop every day.

My husband is always complaining that the meals aren't varied enough and that the windows aren't clean.

In the meantime, he never lifts a finger around the house. I scrub the basement, change the storm windows and mow the lawn. Last summer I painted the garage. All this in addition to holding down a full-time job at the shop, and running a house with four active children.

When I see him taking life easy on the davenport while I'm knocking myself out getting dinner I feel like leaving him. What do you think about this?—PICKLE-PUSS (his name for me).

Dear Pickle-Puss: Your husband is spoiled and lazy, but that is no excuse for leaving the father of your four children.

Any woman who works in a cleaning shop all day and comes home to cook and clean and be a mother to four kids is wearing three hats right there. If she's stupid enough to scrub the basement, change storm windows and mow the law, she's either trying to be a martyr or she's gathering extra ammunition to fire at her husband.

Cut out those extra frills, or you'll be the most efficient woman in the graveyard.

Confidential to AGING FAST: Tell him to marry you or get out at once. This man needs a housekeeper all right, but you need a husband.

St. Matthew's Mother's Club Holds Meeting

St. Matthew's Mothers' Club held its last meeting of the school year in the Gym Meeting Room on Thursday afternoon at 3 p.m. Fr. Dave Dabria, guest speaker, opened the meeting with a prayer. Minutes of the previous meeting were read and approved and the treasurer gave a report on the financial standing of the club. The president, Mrs. Paul Goldman, asked for reports on the recent talent show held in the school and also of the Junior-Senior banquet and dance to be held in the Knights of Columbus Hall on Monday night, May 25th. Mrs. Charles Miller gave a report on the picnic the 8th grade class had at Bernstein Park and for which the Mothers Club paid all expenses. Mrs. Goldman announced that she had received from the Red Cross a 40-year service pin for Sr. M. Magdalen, who had put in that time working for this charitable organization Sr. Fidelis, principal of the grammar school, thanked the ladies for the delightful supper held recently in the home of Mrs. Goldman for all the sisters. She also stated that the grammar school would hold graduation exercises on Friday morning, May 29th, after the 8:20 Mass, and that a Field Day would be held for all grammar grades through the 7th grade on Wednesday, May 27th, at Bernstein Park.

Room count was won by the fourth and tenth grades. Capsule drawing was won by Mrs. A. L. Embanato, and the door prize by Mrs. Betty Koehler.

Fr. Dabria then installed the new officers as follows: President, Mrs. A. L. Embanato; First Vice-President, Mrs. Jas. C. Ussery; Second Vice-President, Mrs. Fred Fudickar, Jr.; Recording Secretary, Mrs. N. J. Herlevic; Corresponding Secretary, Mrs. Ludvic Herlevic; Treasurer, Mrs. Theo Herr; Publicity Chairman, Mrs. Kenneth Bartlett; Spiritual Chairman, Mrs. J. D. LaDart; Social Chairman, Mrs. Paul Plyler; Health Chairman, Mrs. G. A. Varino; Ways & Means Chairmen, Mrs. Paul Goldman and Mrs. Leo McStravick.

At the conclusion of the meeting, refreshments were served to all in the school cafeteria with the fourth grade mothers acting as hostesses.

Grads Prefer Gifts Of Fun, Sentiment

By VIVIAN BROWN
AP Newsfeatures Writer

What are the popular gifts for graduation? Should the gift be a frivolous one? Is it more important to send young people off to other ventures bogged down with erudition — gifts of books, language records, a summer course in a favorite subject?

Most young people say "no." They've had it for a while, whether they are going on to college or out into the big, cold world. So they'd like a gift that takes them away from it all. As one senior puts it:

"The greatest disappointment of my life was to get a dictionary when I graduated from grade school. I wanted something that showed I was getting ahead. like a fishing rod, gun or water skis. But a dictionary was so unexpected that I almost cried."

The young man is an exxcellent student, but just thought that graduation gifts should be tokens of fun or sentiment.

Most popular gifts for young people at graduation are jewelry, as these take to engraving and mark a commemoration, with loving wishes for the future.

After a survey of graduation gift preferences around the country, jewelry counselor Albert J. Haase says that watches, special jewelry designs and fine silver are high on the list of preferences.

Gold circle pins, narrow gold bangle bracelets are high on the list of first choices.

Many high school and college girl graduates. are making plans for marriage, so some families fete them with starter sets of fine sterling flatwear, special serving pieces, silver bowls and trays.

Among young men, two new jewelry items have appeared to rival cuff links and tie bars as most wanted gifts. They are rings and tie tacs. Graduation rings run the gamut from the simple gold signet or initial rings to those set with tone in rugged settings. The tie tac is a modern descendant of grandpa's stick pin, and these are popular with the boys — gold enameled bugs to tiny chip diamonds.

Other gifts that girls might set their sights for, with some gentle hints to dad, mom, and those generous aunts and uncles include: a course in modeling, (this may teach poise, graciousness, other assets to the adult world), a week end at a dude ranch or a cruise or other all-expense-paid vacation and fur piece.

Boys have been known to get such graduation prizes as cars frm indulgent relatives. But give a boy who is interested in the outdoors an outboard motor, fishing rod, camera, gun, boat, bird book, binoculars and you've made him a happy lad. It's a good idea to size up the boy's hobby or needs before selecting his gift.

Caddoan Club Holds Annual Social Party

After Mrs. C. M. Williams, president, asked Mrs. J. E. Files to give the invocation, each member introduced their guests.

Following the luncheon Mrs. Joe Mott Jr. gave a reading "The Magnolia Tree" and gave some information about the author and the writing of the poem.

Mrs. Sam Smith, president of the Pierian Club installed the officers for next year.

Members and guests present were Mrs. Mason McEnery, Mrs. J. E. Files, Mrs. C. M. Williams, Mrs. Abner Wimberly. Mrs. Joe Mott Jr., Mrs. Jack Nolan, Mrs. Jack Carey, Mrs. Sam Smith, Mrs. Sam Williams, Mrs. S. L. Parks, Mrs. Weldon Fitch, Mrs. R. E. Barham, Mrs. Joe Barham, Mrs. Will Rolfe, Mrs. W. P. An Open House Is Given By The Valentines

Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Valentine and daughter Miss Eugenia Valentine were honored by members of the Methodist Church with open house at the Methodist annex, Wednesday night, prior to their moving to West Monroe where they will make their home in the future.

Greeting the guests at the door during the evening were John Barr, N. W. Mott and W. H. Files.

The serving table was overlaid with a white Mexican cutwork cloth and centered with an arrangement of white glads, pink rose buds and larkspur. On a side table was an arrangement of day lilies and Easter lilies and a pot plant was placed on the piano.

Corsages were made by Mrs. T. L. Smith and Mrs. Norman McDuffie and Mrs. L. H. Loughridge made the one for her son Rush to present to Mrs. Valentine who has been his Sunday School teacher.

The Valentines will be greatly missed in all areas of church work as well as other activities in the community. A gift of a sterling silver sugar and creamer was presented to them by the church.

Assisting in the serving couresies were Mrs. E. A. Barham, Mrs. W. H. Files, Mrs. C. E. Shepard, Mrs. N. W. Mott, Mrs. H. J. Norris and Mrs. Weldon Fitch. Other members of the church assisted in the preparation of the party.

About 100 people called during the appointed hours to wish the Valentines good luck in their new home and business.

Music Beats Pills With Sick Children

By THE AP

"Here come the music ladies!"

The little girl in the wheelchair turned eagerly toward the door of the children's ward at Bird S. Coler Hospital on Welfare Island, New York, as two smiling women entered, carrying marimbas and bongo drums.

"Ready for a music lesson, children?" asked small cheerful Gladys Douglas - Longmore, in charge of the musical therapy program at this and many other hospitals throughout the country. With her was musical therapist Dorothy L. Birchard, who visits the children every week and knows the favorite tunes of each one.

These children were cerebral palsy and muscular dystrophy patient, most of them mentally alert but handicapped in muscular coordination. Wheelchairs were pushed around the small piano, the small bongo drums were handed out, and the children hesitantly beat out the rhythm as Miss Birchard played "March of the Wooden Soldiers" on the piano.

"The rhythm helps in muscular coordination," explained Miss Douglas - Longmore later. "The children have to be encouraged to use their muscles, and the music often does the trick when everything else fails."

She supervises the 97 musical therapists who work for the Hospitalized Veterans Service of the Musicians Emergency Fund, teaching music to patients in city, state and veterans' hsopitals in eight states — New York, New Jersey, Pennsylvania, Connecticut, Ohio, Michigan, Illinois and Maryland.

"Musical therapy is a specialized field," says Gladys. "The people who do it best have to be dedicated, like ministers and social workers. They must be able to teach music as well as play it, and they must have a real interest in the patients and their problems."

Musical therapy first came into wide use after World War II, when it was found that in some cases, particularly those of mentally disturbed patients, music was the only means to reach them.

"The last time I was at this hospital," she said, "three teenage boys started composing a song about satellites and flying saucers. After our lesson, one of them said — 'I want to be sure nobody infringes our copyright!' "

The musical therapy programs take various forms. Group singing is popular in all hospitals, as are the rhythm lessons. In addition individual musical instruction is available to patients in member hosptials in the New York area.

"The Banjo is the most popular instrument," says Gladys. "It's easy to handle in a wheelchair, and it's wonderful for the morale of convalescent patients —keeps them busy, interested and happy."

Gladys herself started out to be a ballet dancer, came to New York, and discovered musical therapy offered a more satisfying field. Outside the New York area, she says, there is a real need for trained musicians who can teach, to take part in the hospital programs.

"All musicians seem to come to New York," says she, "so we seldom have a shortage here. But in other parts of the country, musical therapists are needed, and this might be a good career for young musicians to consider."

Girl Scout News

Passing a Girl Scout milestone by reaching second class rank are the girls of Troop 8, who concluded their school year and fourth year of scouting with a court - of - awards in the auditorium of Plum Street School. Mrs. E. M. Varnado, who with Mrs. C. E. Leath has served as leader, awarded the badges as climax of a program which began with a flag ceremony and included brief talks by eleven girls on the eleven fields represented in second class rank. At the conclusion of the program, members of the troop committee, Mrs. J. T. Avery, Mrs. G. R. Fowler, Mrs. Ellis V. Hunt, Mrs. E. B. Pounds, Mrs. Martin Schempf and Mrs. W. H. Chambliss served refreshments.

Awarded cat and dog badges as well as second class were Linda Willard, Sandra Fowler, Judy Avery, Judy Varnado, and Mary Lou Gibon. Others who attained the rank are: Linda Bradshaw, Cynthia Chambliss, Anita Christman, Kathy Davis, Earlynn Gewin, Brenda Hale, Judy Hunt, Linda Ann Hunt, Carol Johnson, Sherry Lasuzzo, Leslie Leath, Suzette Lindsey, Joyce Maddox, Sheila McGough, Nancy Pounds, Mary Louise Schempf, Charlotte Wiggins, Marilyn Thompson.

The troop has had an active year, with a recent overnight trip to Pine Wood as a high point. The adventure of a long hike, cooking their first breadtwists, being lulled to sleep by the woodsy night noises and awakened by bird song are among the thrills of their first overnight.

Troop 32 had a most enjoyable trip to Pine Wood on a recent overnight, choosing activities which they needed to complete the campcraft badge. Review of lashing by those who had worked on it before, and a chance to lash a table for those who hadn't met this requirement, learning to light and fill and clean a lamp and a lantern, cooking out of doors, and a hike to the river where they could play barefoot on the sand, were the big events of the trip, the girls said.

The troop concluded its year with a mother - daughter supper at which time all the girls were awarded second class rank, which they had earned, adventurer and campcraft badges were awarded also to those who had completed requirements.

Mrs. J. E. Wood is leader of Troop 32, with Mrs. M. H. Duncan, Mrs. J. S. Davis and Mrs. K. W. Inabnett serving on the troop committee. The following girls make up the membership of the troop; Jane Brant, Omega Christian, Linda Gail Coates, Sandra Davis, Sherry Dickenhorst, Denise Duncan, Caroline Inabnett, Helen Keith, Gayle Nolan, Kathryn Shaver, Donna Spargo, Sue Spight, Carol Ann Sugar, Diane Tomlinson, Karen Walker, Dottie Whitfield, Irma White, Sherry Wood.

Northeast Girls In Sorority At Louisiana Tech

Miss Ann Shirley of Bastrop was recently elected social chairman of Dudley Hall, a member of Student's Association of Louisiana Teachers, freshman advisor and will serve on the Campus Women's Council.

Miss Martha Sue Pratt of Bastrop was elected sophomore representative to the Student Senate, past president of Pledge Class, was a member of the freshman girl's Glee Club, summer representative to the Student Union, freshman advisor and will be an R. O. T. C. sponsor next year.

Miss Mary Alice Thomas of Oak Grove is president of Pierce Hall, was a member of the Freshman Glee Club, will serve as a member of the Associated Women's Studies Board next year, a member of the Blue Jackets, was selected to be a freshman advisor and was an honor student this year.

Presbyterian Moderator To Take Road Often In '59

By MIKE SOFFIN

RICHMOND, Va. (AP) — The new moderator of the Presbyterian Church in the U.S. (South) plans to take to the road quite often this year.

Dr. Ernest Trice Thompson, newly elected leader of 873,000 Presbyterians, wants to get to know the people and problems of his church. His travels will take him to foreign countries, too.

"I'll be spending a whole month in Brazil this summer attending two church meetings," says the 64-year-old professor of church history at Union Theological Seminary here, where he has taught since 1922.

Thompson's election as moderator last month was regarded by many friends as evidence of the liberal trend of the church in recent years.

Not 20 years ago Thompson's views and ponouncements on theological matters were challenged by one lay leader as being out of line with basic Presbyterian doctrine. Thompson himself called for an investigation of the charges. His position was upheld.

Thompson attributes the row to "tensions between conservatives and liberals. The more liberal group with which I'm generally identified began to excite the concern of the conservatives."

In the years that followed, the church has been moving in a liberal direction, he says.

Being moderator gives Thompson an opportunity to expound his views throughout the church.

Among problems facing the denomination, race looms as most important, he feels, even though Negroes are a small minority. The Presbyterian Church in the U.S. endorsed the 1954 Supreme Court decision outlawing public school segregation soon after it was handed down, and later reaffirmed that position.

For another thing, Thompson thinks women of the church should be eligible for the posts of elder, deacon and minister. Traditionally, they have been barred from these offices.

Says Thompson: "We are tending in that direction and I think the day will come."

Thompson notes that the United Presbyterian Church of North America, the other major Presbyterian denomination in the country, recently permitted women to hold the three posts.

Merger of the two denominations is talked of a great deal, Thompson says.

"Unification seems dead for the present until emotionalism over the race issue dies down," he says. "Undoubtedly a move for unification will come again."

The proposed merger came up for a final vote soon after the Supreme Court ruling of 1954 and was rejected by the Southern church.

Ship Saving Boost Gained By U.S. Navy

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Navy picked up powerful new support Friday in its drive to salvage the 260 million dollar super aircraft carrier which the House Appropriations Committee sought to torpedo.

Sen. John C. Stennis (D-Miss.), a key member of both the Senate Appropriations and Armed Services Committees, encouraged Navy witnesses to seek restoration of the funds. He also endorsed Navy plans to modernize its aging World War II warships.

While admitting there are conflicting views on the nation's defense needs, Stennis said he believed the primary challenge will involve crises like those in Formosa and Lebanon.

"I'm a small war man myself," Stennis said in expaining his support for the new carrier. "Here's where our weakness is."

Stennis, chairman of an armed services subcommittee which recommended a cutback in the Army's Nike-Hercules anti-aircraft missile, said funds for the carrier and other limited war needs could be obtained by eliminating rocket program "duplications."

The Mississippi senator was the third member of the Senate military appropriations subcommittee to voice support for the carrier. Similar statements were made earlier by Chairman Dennis Chavez (D-N..) and Sen. Milton R. Young (R-N.D.).

Chavez told newsmen after Friday's hearing that it appeared likely, judging from statements made by subcommittee members, that the group would vote to restore the carrier funds.

The House Appropriations Committee knocked out funds for the big flattop Thursday in approving a $38,848,339,000 bill to run the Defense Department and the military services next year. It said the funds should go toward a missiles speed-up.

Navy witnesses made clear in their testimony Friday that they will continue to press for the ship despite the House committee action and a statement by Adm. Hyman G. Rickover that going ahead with the carrier would be "stupid."

A Koala Friend

Evangelist Billy Graham had a smile as he posed Monday with a koala bear at a farm for the bears in Adelaide, Australia. Graham, in Sydney and at the end of his crusade, declared "the Australian crusade is by far the biggest I ahve known." He said he hopes to return there in the next couple of years. Crusade organizers have counted 2,058,800 Australian heads and 100,608 "decisions for Christ" at Graham's 56 meetings in Australia. (AP Wirephoto)

Johnson-Proxmire Blasts May Grow

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Sen. William Proxmire (D-Wis.) said Friday he will not shy away from further criticism of Senate Democratic Leader Lyndon B. Johnson despite a stinging counter-attack by the Texas senator.

Proxmire also said his call for policy-making party conferences by the Senate's 64 Democrats had met with so much favor that Johnson was forced to switch tactics in opposing it. He said Johnson apparently felt impelled to break his silence and speak out.

Johnson, who has been criticized repeatedly by Proxmire and occasionally by several other Democrats, scoffed at charges Thursday that he exercised one - man rule over his party in the Senate. He said he couldn't force any senator to vote against his convictions.

Proxmire contended this was not the issue. He said Johnson failed to hold party caucuses and that therefore there was no Democratic policy as such in the Senate.

Proxmire, a relatively new senator, called it "extremely significant that Johnson decided after several months to answer his charge.

"He tried the tactic of killing it by ignoring it," Proxmire said in an interview. "Obviously this was not working, so now he is trying to kill it by persuasion. I am delighted that he has decided to answer."

Proxmire emphasized that he was not looking for trouble and had no plans for any new attack on Johnson. But he said he would not hesitate to speak out again if the situation called for it.

Last month Sen. Pat McNamara (D-Mich.) took issue with Johnson for failing to take a stand on a jobless benefit bill. The next day Sen. Wayne Morse (D - Ore.) charged that Senate Democratic leaders — he mentioned no one specifically — had been serving as a ventriloquist's dummy for the administration.

More than seven million women in the U. S. are working mothers. These include almost 1.4 million who are widowed, divorced or separated from their husbands. Nearly 40 per cent of all working mothers living with their husbands have children of pre-school age.

BAREFOOT BOYS

NOTTINGHAM, England (UPI) — A local hosiery mill doesn't know why but it's started to produce an order from the Ethiopian army for 14,061 pairs of woolen socks without feet.

The U. S. Department of Health, Education and Welfare says there are 21.2 million American families with just one wage earner, 15.3 million with two wage earners and 4.4 million with three.

Hollywood Gets Teacher Who Turned Stripper

HOLLYWOOD (UPI) —A former substitute school teacher said Friday she became a burlesque stripper because school officials complained about her "cute dresses."

Shapely blonde 30-year-old Patricia Ann Carruthers, whose "runway" name is Patti White, said she got tired of school authorities telling her what she could wear.

"I always wanted to be an actress anyway," she said. "I loved teaching—I really did, but I wanted to seem like a woman, too.

"The students seemed to enjoy me when I came to school with big earrings and cute dresses."

Her figure, 37-22-35, attracts attention nightly now at the Club El Rancho—a Los Angeles neighborhood burlesque house. But the eyes are adult, not adolescent.

The Los Angeles City Board of Education confirmed that "yes, indeed," she was employed by city schools—as a substitute from 1954 until she resigned last October.

MARKET HIGHER

Yesterday the industrials again moved ahead to a new all time high with gains and losses about in balance at 487 up vs 497 down. Wide movers included IBM, up 38 at top. ahead 20 at the bell, and on top 50 points in the past 4 days. Zenith zoomed up 7 to a new high. Rohm and Haas gained 7¼ while General Foods added 6¼ to make it 13 on the week. White Motors bounced 5⅝ while International Salt gained 3¼ and Carborundum gained 3⅛.

ELECTRONICS UP

Electronics favored gains with Zenith up 7, quality Westinghouse Electric, up 3¼, while Active Radio added 1⅞ and Motorola was ahead 1½. Raytheon slipped 1⅜ while Litton dipped 1⅝. Swift, to be added to the Dow Industrials, gained 1⅞ while Proctor and Gamble gained 2⅛. Bell and Howell gained 3¼ and Winn Dixie gained 1½. Fluor lost 2 with the group strong as Dupont added 1¾ and National Lead gained 1½. Corning Glass added 2¼ while Kodak was 1 better.

DRUGS BETTER

Drugs were better as American Home Products gained 3 ¾ , still liking its dividend hike. Schering advanced 1½ and Warner Lambert gained 1. Building shares lost fractions to 2⅛ by U. S. Plywood. Johns Manville slipped 1½ and National Gypsum lost 1. Papers were neglected. Alcoa, also to join the Dow Jones industrials, added 2 with aluminums mixed. Continental added 1⅛ in little changed oils. Rails lost fractions. Rubbers were better, with Goodrich up 2⅜ and General Tire ahead 2¼. Schenley added 1¼.

AIRCRAFTS MIXED

Aircrafts were fractionally mixed, with United off 1½, while airlines showed minimum changes. Youngstown gained 3 and Jones and Laughlin was 1⅛ better as most steels lost fractions. Tobaccos were neglected while Kennecott dropped 2 in moderately lower coppers. American Telephone old, on its last day of trading, gained 4⅝.

INDUSTRIALS UP

The industrials were up 1.18 at noon, then moved steadily ahead, up 4.21 at 643.79. The rails were off 9c at 1 p.m., drifted lower, off 54c at 167.33. Tue utilities, off 17c at 1 p.m.. and closed ahead 2c at 89.80.

GRAIN

CHICAGO (AP)—Selling continued in wheat, rye and soybean futures almost without letup Friday and knocked all those contracts down for their sharpest losses in several days.

Most of the setbacks were a cent or more a bushel with prices at the finish up only slightly from their lows of the day. The new crop soybean months were down major fractions, oats mostly steady to firm and corn narrowly mixed.

Favorable crop conditions and weather were described as the main bearish factors along with discouragingly slow commercial demand for the nearby deliveries which led the declines.

At the close, wheat was ⅞-1⅛ cents a bushel lower, July $1.84-83⅞; corn ¼ lower to ¼ higher, July $1.24½-⅝; oats ½ higher to ⅛ lower, July 63 cents; rye 1-1⅞ lower, July $1.20¼ - ⅛; soybeans ⅝-1½ lower, July $2.25⅛-⅜.

COTTON

NEW YORK COTTON

NEW YORK (AP) — Cotton futures closed 30 cents a bale lower to 35 cents higher Friday.

Trading was slow in a typical pre-holiday market. Light mill buying and New Orleans and local demand for distant months provided a firm tone in early dealings. Prices later weakened as profit taking set in with only distant October showing a gain at the close.

Nearby July experienced some liquidation. Some quarters expressed the view that mills now appear pretty well covered on raw cotton needs until the new crop becomes available either through cotton on hand or by contract.

The weather in the cotton belt was generally favorable.

The Department of Agriculture reported the mid-May citton parity was 38.18 cents a pound. basis middling ⅞ inch, compared with the mid-April figure of 38.12 cents.

Futures closed 30 cents a bale lower to 35 cents higher than the previous close.

NEW ORLEANS COTTON

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — The average price of one inch spot cotton at 14 designated southern spot markets Friday was unchanged at 34.63 cents a pound; previous day 34.63; week ago 34.63; month ago 34:66; year ago 34.77. Average for the past 30 market days 34.61. Middling 15-16ths inch average 33.11. Sales 9,951.

LIVESTOCK

CHICAGO (AP) — Butcher hog prices were 25 to 75 cents higher Friday as the supply dropped to 4,000 head, the lightest offerings since March 27. Sows were strong to 25 cents higher.

The 190-220 lb mixed No. 1 and 2 butcher grades were in good demand at $17.50-17.75 and the same weights of mixed 2s and 3s at $17.00-17.50. A small lot of 195 lb strictly No. 1s brought the top of $18.00, up 50 cents from Thursday's high. Sows moved at $11.75-14.25.

The cattle supply was a small 200 head. Prices were steady on all classes on sale. A very few slaughter steers grading average choice and weighing 1,050 lbs sold at $29.00, the few high good and choice 1,100 lb weights at $27.50-28.00.

Heifers were $26.50-27.50 for good and low choice kinds, vealers $24.00-33.00 for standard to good and bulls $23.00-25.50 for utility commercial.

Mafia Meeting Host Suffers Heart Attack

JOHNSON CITY, N.Y. (AP) — Joseph Barbara, host to the Apalachin gangland convention, collapsed Friday and his attorney said there was "every indication of another severe coronary attack."

Barbara. 53, was unconscious when admitted to Wilson Memorial Hospital, where he was placed in an oxygen tent, attorney Harry Travis said. Travis was at the hospital.

Barbara's condition was listed as serious.

Barbara scffered a heart attack in January, 1957. Court-appointed physicians said that he had been extremely agitated the day state police broke up the Apalachian convention at his home but did not suffer any new attack.

Barbara has avoided questioning about the meeting on the ground his heart would not stand up under the interrogation.

Earlier this week, Barbara and his family moved from the hilltop mansion in Apalachin to a house in nearby Endicott.

Appointed

C. E. Wright has been appointed Manager for Southern Bell Telephone Company in Monroe. He succeeds E. A. Becker Jr., who has been appointed survey engineer on the North Louisiana division staff in Shreveport.

Record High Industrials Hit Markets

NEW YORK (UPI) — Sharp gains in a group of blue chips lifted industrial stocks to new all-time high ground in an otherwise routine semi-holiday session—the slowest since the Lincoln's birthday trading.

American Telephone was up 4⅝ on the day, General Foods 6¼, Westinghouse Electric 3¼; Procter & Gamble 2⅛; DuPont 1¾.

Outside the group used in the averages, International Business Machines was the big news. It soared 38 points to a new high of 488 and held 20 points of the rise. At its closing 470 it was 84½ points above the low of 385½ following its recent stock split.

Electronics generally were in demand. Zenith rose 7, Hoffman Electronics 3 points, Motorola and Radio Corp. well over a point each.

Youngstown Sheet & Tube, up 3 points, and Jones & Laughlin, 1⅛ higher stood out in steels where U. S. Steel fell ⅞ and Bethlehem ⅛ point.

Motors ranged between a gain of ⅛ in American Motors, the day's most actively traded issue, and a loss of ⅞ in Ford. White Motor climbed close to 6 points on an optimistic forecast by its chairman.

Goodrich and General Tire added over 2 points each in the tires. Polaroid gained 2, Bell & Howell 3¼ in the cameras. Alcoa rose 2, International Nickel 1¼ among the non-ferrous metals. Tennessee Corp. improved 5 points, Carborundum 3⅛.

Rails and utility issues were more or less neglected and closed with minor changes either way.

Of a total 1,189 issues appearing, 501 were lower, 485 higher on the day.

Rape Victim Dies Following Second Attack

LOS ANGELES (AP)—A 57-year old secretary, the victim of two attacks by sidewalk prowlers in seven years, died Friday of injuries received in the last one.

Ruth Gwinn was raped and bludgeoned by a man who dragged her into a parking lot early Thursday. She died of internal injuries and multiple skull fractures.

Police issued a statewide broadcast for the unidentifed suspect, described as about 30 years of age, 130 pounds and 5 feet 6 inches tall.

Seven years ago Mrs. Gwinn was shot in the back by a strange man who accosted her on a dark street.

Mrs. Gwinn recovered from the bullet wound. The gunman was never caught.

'AG's The Boss," Is Observation Of Ouachita DA

"The attorney general's the boss—we aren't going to answer any of the questions," commented District Attorney Albin P. Lassiter, on a list of 315 questions sent to Mrs. Mae Lucky and 18 other Louisiana registrars of voters.

The statement followed Atty. Gen. Jack Germillion's notice yesterday that the questions, sent out by the U. S. Civil Rights Commission, were "beyond reason."

Mrs. Lucky, Ouachita Parish Registrar, received the questionaire, and a request to attend a Tuesday hearing in Baton Rouge on Monday.

Unable to be at the hearing, she turned the list over to Lassiter.

"I read it and put it in my desk drawer," he said yesterday.

The questionaire was sent out after the Commission said it received voting complaints.

"Most of them (the questions) are wholly unrelated to the functions of their (the registrars) offices," said Gremillion, "and they are not accompanied by any specific complaints, the nature thereof, no the name of any complainant."

Terming the questions "irrelevant", Gremillion noted that he is informed the Commission plans a north Louisiana hearing whether the questions are answered or not.

DISTRICT COURT

Terms In Prison Assessed Here

Third offense, driving while under the influence of intoxicating alcoholic beverages, cost Jessie Mose McElduff three years in the Louisiana State Penitentiary at Angola yesterday.

Judge Jesse S. Heard sentenced him during the Friday session of Fourth District Court.

David Elmo Dougal, sentenced to six months in the Ouachita parish jail this month for simple obstruction of the highway, appeared in court to have his probation revoked on another charge.

He was sentenced to three years in prison last December, for car theft, but was placed on probation and the sentence was suspended. This month's conviction caused his probation to be revoked and he now will begin serving the three-year term.

SENTENCE

Thelbert Lewis, who earlier pled guilty to forgery, yesterday was given a three-year suspended sentence in the penitentiary and placed on probation.

In other action Judge Heard fined three persons $300 and costs of court each for operating a motor vehicle while under the influence of intoxicating liquors. They were J. D. Thames, Garfield Davis, and Osie V. Jackson.

Pleading not guilty and having trials set were: Huey P. Roberts, Lessie L. Anding, and Edward E. Holley, all set for June 26; Willie Linn, Jr., July 6; and Paul C. Philley, Sept. 18.

Willis C. Barrett and Jack Hilburn, both charged with being a second offender, drunk driving, will be tried on Sept. 11 and Sept. 18 respectively.

William Sadler Butler, charged on four counts of felony theft, pleaded not guily and will be tried on November 17. Butler will also be tried on June 26 for having a switched automobile license plate.

Tad W. Murray and Alton Rasberry were fined $125 and $25 respectively for rechless driving. The judge pointed out that he took into account the seriousness of the offense in setting the fines. Rasberry also paid $25 for failure to post bond within the five-day period.

Pleading not guilty and set for trial on June 19 was Lucian W. Clancy, charged with reckless driving.

Three persons were fined $25 and costs for having no dirver's license. They were Bobby Ray Barnes, Junior Collinson and William F. Woods.

Pleading not guilty to the no driver's license charge were Willis C. Barrett, who will be tried on Sept. 11, and Paul C. Philley, set for Sept. 18.

Dorothy B. Donoway was fined $100 and $25 respectively for illegal possession of a central nervous system stimuland and permitting operation of a vehicle without a license plate.

Sam Hill Manning was fined a total of $75 for three charges. They were no driver's license, improper muffler and failure to post bond.

Fined $30 for speeding were Freddy Richard Cook and Frank Smith. A similar charge against Thomas Hinton was continued until a later date.

Jack E. Hilburn also faces a charge of hit and run and will be tried on Sept. 18.

James L. Coffee and Cleveland O. Antie pleaded not guilty to disturbing the peace and will face trial on June 19 and 26 respectively.

Osie V. Jackson was fined $25 for defective brakes. Joe N. Taylor, charged with no driver's license was remanded until June 19.

In the juvenile session of district court W. C. Lawson, charged with criminal neglect of his family, was given a one-year suspended sentence in the state penitentiary. Pleading not guilty to criminal neglect was Henry L. Johnson, while William Sadler Butler, pleaded not guilty to contributing to the delinquency of a child. Their trials were set for June 19 and 26.

James E. Viola was remanded until June 29 on a charge of contributing to the deliquency of a juvenile.

Cases nolle prossed in today's session of court included: C. K. Reagan, Jr., three counts of theft; Alex I. Varnell, two counts of simple burglary; Clayton Joe Kelly, Reginald Gosdin, and Charlie Lee Green, all charged with no driver's license; Bobby Gwin, reckless driving; Charlie Lee Green, speeding; and Alton Recoulley, simple obstruction of the highway.

Morrison Awaits Results Of Poll Of Public Opinion

Chep Morrison, Mayor of New Orleans and possible candidate of governor, is awaiting the results of an opinion poll now being conducted in Louisiana.

Morrison said that Belden Associates of Dallas, a marketing research firm experienced in voter sentiment surveys, is making the poll.

"Any objective, professionally prepared poll is certainly important and should cause any prospective candidate to consider the results," Morrison said.

He said he would not be impressed with the results of anything less than a professional poll of a large number of voters.

"These postcard surveys have been made and public officials have been polled, but I don't think they show very much. The independent voter is the big question mark." Morrison said he does not know who is paying for the current survey.

City Courts

MONROE

Eight persons appeared in city court here yesterday, three being charged with drunken driving.

They included Singleton Sheppard, 50, of 317 Camble St., West Monroe, who was sentenced to 25 days or $25 plus cost of court.

Nelson Gibson. 74, 1013 Washington, was given two and a half months for both counts of drunken driving and disturbing the peace.

Julius Baker, 36, 1006 Calypso, was given $25 or 25 days for drunken driving plus $50 or fifty days for disturbing the peace.

Two reckless driving cases were heard, along with two vagrancy charges and three charges on disturbing the peace.

Will Carter, 26, 1009 Pine, was sentenced to a 60-day compulsory jail sentence plus a $100 fine for reckless driving. Also sentenced to a 60-day compulsory jail sentence was Jessie Ainsworth, 44, 606 Morrison, for two counts of disturbing the peace and vagrancy.

Willie Starr, 37, 4006 Church St., was fined $25 for reckless driving plus $200 for carrying a dangerous weapon.

WEST MONROE

Judge Jasper Jones fined two persons $5.50 each in West Monroe city court yesterday for running a red light.

Truck Acquired By W. Monroe

Mayor J. Allan Norris of West Monroe said yesterday that a truck had been acquired for Civil Defense purposes for the city. It was brought here yesterday from Baton Rouge.

"The truck is not new, but it still has a good many miles on it," Mayor Norris commented.

It was one of the many vehicles discarded by the U.S. Army because it is out of date. The state receives these discarded vehicles and in turn distributes them to cities throughout the state who request them, Mayor Norris explained.

Suicide Note Writer Returns From Exploits

MENDENHALL, Miss. (AP) — A 54-year-old newspaper distributor who precipitated a widespread search by leaving three suicide notes and then disappearing, walked up to the home of Bud Mullins near here Friday.

The man, Curtis Brown, said he had spent Thursday night in a barn on the N. W. Prestwood farm near here.

Officers said Brown was nervous, shaken up, and "in bad shape." He was to be taken to a hospital later in the afternoon.

Brown's wife told officers she found three suicide notes at home after her husband had eaten lunch and left.

House Troubles Begin At Home

By HUGH MULLIGAN
Associated Press Writer

After striving for years to get to the top of the political ladder, many governors find what almost any home owner finds at the top of a ladder. Namely that the roof leaks, the gutters are clogged and the shingles are falling off.

Gov. James T. Blair of Missouri, for instance, goes obout wadding newspaper into the window cracks of his drafty mansion, an 88-year-old French - Italian structure that is kept under 24-hour fire guard.

Two years ago Blair refused to move into the mansion on grounds it was impossible to heat, rat-infested and falling down. But Sylvester, the mansion cat, has taken care of the rat problem and a $40,000 repair job enabled the Blairs to camp out in the redone second floor.

When Nevada Gov. Grant Sawyer moved into the state's 50-year-old colonial mansion in January, he found something lacking in the upstairs bedrooms. Beds, for instance. The rest of the house was only partly furnished. The Legislature finally put up $29,000 for furnishings.

Kentucky finally got around to curing its mansion of a dangerous case of hot wires after one governor complained of using "fuses by the bushel."

Georgio has killed off several moves to replace its 50-year-old native stone mansion, considered obsolete and badly in need of repairs. "We got it patched up and the rains haven't bothered us recently," said Secretary of State Ben Fortson, whose office is charged with mansion maintenance.

Gov. Price Daniel of Texas was welcoming a delegation of women to his 105-year-old mansion when a large chunk of the entrance hall ceining suddenly gave way.

The roof also fell in on Wyoming's 50-year-old mansion, narrowly missing the cook. An $18,000 repair bill patched things up a bit.

The California mansion, another batch of gingerbread from the Victorian oven, stands on the fringes of downtown Sacramento with a busy U. S. highway running past its iron picket fence. It is flanked by a motel, gas station and physical culture salon. But the ornately paneled, velvet draped rooms have a certain fading charm, especially the fine old Italian marble fireplaces, each different and each condemned by the fire marshal.

At least 10 states, including some large ones like Michigan and Massachusetts, provide no mansions for their governors. In Vermont, Gov. Robert Stafford lives in a hotel near the State House. Massachusetts gives its governors a $10,000 a year living allowance. Oregon rents them a state-owned house, but the present governor, Mark Hatfield, has bought a 75-year-old private house and is remodeling it for himself.

Kansas has two governors mansions. Gov. George Docking lives in the 72-year-old official residence and wants no part of "Cedar Crest," a brooding French castle on a high bluff outside Topeko willed to the state two years ago. Docking says the new one is so far out of town, "I have a hard time finding it."

Pennsylvania has two mansions and is thinking of building a third.

Gov. David Lawrence lives in the drafty official manse, an architectural hodge-podge on the banks of the Susquehanna that was converted from a private home in 1864 and since has been enlarged by such helter-skelter additions that it is now actually two houses hiding behind a false front. Many previous governors fled permanently to the comfortable summer mansion at nearby Indiantown Gap. For nearly 15 years the state has been planning to erect a modern mansion, patterned after Independence Hall. The 2½ million dollar price tag has been the main drawback.

"Morven," the New Jersey mansion at Princeton, is both the oldest and one of the newest. It was built in 1701, acquired by the state 250 years later. Following a $250,000-restoration job and enlargement of the Gen. Cornwallis bed, Gov. Robert Meyner moved in two years ago as the first official occupant.

Nebraska's new $250,000-mansion has developed a case of shaky floors. North Dakota has had trouble finding an architect who will keep within the available $193,000 and not go wild on modern design. Montana scraped up $125,000 to build a mansion in 1953, added $50,000 more two years later and still ran out of money. The current Legislature put up $124,000 to finish the place.

Wisconsin acuired a new mansion 10 years ago, a 34-room Italian Renaissance structure that was built in 1929 and undoubetdly holds the gubernatorial bathroom record. It has 12.

Whether acquired or built, the newer mansions average about a quarter million dollars in cost and contain 12 to 15 rooms.

In 1900, when the population of the U. S. was 76.1 million, there were nearly 31 million children under the age of 18 and a newborn baby had a life expectancy of 49 years. Today, there are more than 61 million children in the country under the age of 18 out of a population of 175 million and the life expectancy is 70 years.

U.S. Protests Reds Barbs At Greek Isles

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The United States Friday protested "threats" levelled against Greece and Italy by Soviet Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev in an attempt to block construction of U.S. missile bases on their territory.

The State Department expressed its "unswerving support" for the two nations and said the United States regards any threat against them as a matter of mutual concern.

It also voiced regret that Khrushchev's threats came during the Geneva Big Four foreign ministers negotiations. It said they "scarcely improve the chances of successful negotiations at any level."

The Soviet premier has made several speeches during his current visit to Albania in which he has referred to the plans for missile bases in the two countries. The specific one that prompted the sharp State Department reaction was delivered Thursday in the town of Korce.

In the speech, Khrushchev warned the Greeks that their decision "entails serious consequences." He said that if the missile bases are built, the Soviets may establish similar bases in the mountain area of neighboring Albania.

He also noted that both Italy and Greece could be "showered" with rockets from such Soviet bases.
